Rail Nationalization May Be Put Up To People

ENGINEERS' PLAN LAID DOWN TO SOLONS

Warren S. Stone Presents Plumb Scheme to House Commerce Board

EMPLOYES AND PUBLIC WOULD REAP BENEFITS

If Congress Refuses to Act Sentiment of Public Will Be Sought

By L. C. MARTIN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—"Labor will go to the people" with its demand for nationalization of the railroads and will attempt to create strong public sentiment to force adoption of this plan, if congress refuses it now, Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, told the house interstate commerce committee today.

Stone presented to the committee the so called Plumb plan for government ownership of the lines, whereby they would be operated for benefit of their employees and the public.

"What would be your action if this committee should not adopt the Plumb plan of government ownership?" Chairman Esch asked.

"Our action would be to try to create enough sentiment throughout the country to compel congress to adopt the plan," Stone replied.

"Would you seek it through strike?" queried Esch.

"No, sir; I do not believe the brotherhoods would, although I am speaking largely for the locomotive engineers. Reduction of the high cost of living is what we want more than anything else."

Opposition to labor's program was voiced today by the United States chamber of commerce, which announced a referendum of business men throughout the country showed 99 per cent oppose it. It would cost $20,000,000,000 to buy the railroads, the chamber declared.

BROOKLYN RAILWAY MEN GO ON STRIKE

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Several hundred employees of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company went on strike at 5 o'clock this morning, following refusal of Lindley M. Garrison, receiver, to grant demands including 75 cents an hour, an eight-hour day and recognition of their new union.

Company officials admitted their elevated and subway lines were affected "largely through intimidation of loyal employees," but contended their surface lines were maintaining full service.

WILD WEST COLORS TO BE STATE'S PROPERTY

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 6.—Divisional colors of the 91st (Wild West) division are to be the property of California, in accordance with a rule that they go to the state furnishing the greatest quota of the unit's personnel.

Adjutant General Borree has been notified by Major William H. Johnson, commanding Camp Lewis, Wash., that the 91st division headquarters pennant and the guidon of headquarters troops will be forwarded to the state capitol here.

FOOD SITUATION OF WORLD IS OUTLINED

A world wide resume of the food situation, collected by able by the United Press today showed the following:

GREAT BRITAIN
The government is spending $250,000,000 a year to keep the price of bread down and fixes the price of meat and sugar.

FRANCE
France's food problem is one of the quantity rather than price and the government is employing every means to import sufficient supplies. The government fixes maximum prices.

CANADA
A commission has been created to handle this year's grain crop.

AUSTRALIA
Australia has a vast surplus of food and the government has difficulty in keeping prices high enough to reward production.

ITALY
Italy's bread supply alone costs the government $400,000,000 a year.

JAPAN
Press and public are urging the government to place maximum prices on food and other necessities.

Secret Past of Man Held On Girl's Charge May Be Bared, Attorney's View

FIRMLY of the opinion that the future will bring forth developments casting light on the past record of A. Snellgrove, who is in the county jail in default of $10,000 bail on a charge brought on the evidence of a 14-year-old girl, William F. Menton, deputy district attorney, has completed what he believes will prove a strong case when Snellgrove is brought before Justice Cox on Monday, August 11, at 2 p. m. for his preliminary hearing.

Circumstances occurring at the time of Snellgrove's arrest at Ramona Acres give rise to the possibility that Snellgrove was at one time in the United States navy and that his record of service, in the opinion of Attorney Menton, should be investigated.

The anxiety of Snellgrove over several pictures showing him in naval uniform is pointed to by the attorney as indicating that there is something in his past which Snellgrove is desirous of being kept hidden.

Expect Gun Battle With Suspects In Lawler Case

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 6.—Word that four deputy sheriffs from Los Angeles had fought a gun battle with two men suspected of complicity in the bombing of the home of Attorney Oscar Lawler was expected momentarily at the sheriff's office today.

A telephone message to the sheriff brought word that his four deputies had raced through Calipatria, Imperial Valley, early today just behind a powerful automobile in which the alleged dynamiters are fleeing for the international line. Imperial county authorities are giving assistance and an effort will be made to cut off escape in the vicinity of Mexicali.

In the meantime police continue investigation locally.

Late developments are: Discovery that a metal case apparently exactly the same as the one which contained the explosives set at the Lawler home, was made by Wm. Peck, a Pomona machinist, for an unidentified man about two weeks ago. Peck said the man told him it was "to keep chemicals in."

Chief of Police Home questioned Mrs. Maud Kaffitz, principal in the recent Kaffitz will contest action, in which Lawler was an attorney. Mrs. Kaffitz said she visited Chief Home voluntarily as she wanted to do all possible to bring Lawler's assailants to justice.

At the hospital early today reports were that Lawler had passed a comparatively restful night, had been taking nourishment, was in good spirits and the outlook is still "hopeful."

Mrs. Lawler's condition is growing better.

The reward offered has reached $37,000. The latest offer is $5000 from the California Club where the noted lawyer in his younger days was employed as a "bell hop."

Supervisors Would Boost But Shy at Plane Jaunt

Members of the Board of Supervisors of Orange county may be anxious to view the fleet at San Diego, and undoubtedly they are not at all averse to doing what they can to help spread the fair fame of the county as a county of beauty and natural resources.

But when it comes to a question of flying southward in an airplane to get a look at Uncle Sam's fighting ships, even if by so doing they would be the means of giving Orange county a measure of publicity, they are, well, just a little bit skittish, so to speak.

W. C. O'Conner, former Huntington Beach real estate dealer, and now representing a Los Angeles aviation company, appeared before the Board of Supervisors yesterday, with an offer to take the members of the board to San Diego via the air route at $150 each, for a one-way trip, and $225 each for the round trip. O'Conner dilated on the publicity that would accrue to the county if the stunts were pulled off, but somehow the board members appeared unconvinced.

Two Theories Followed In El Centro Murder Mystery

EL CENTRO, Cal., Aug. 6.—With the identities of the two men found murdered at Lockwood yesterday established as Wm. Bailey, storekeeper, and Jas. G. McElhaney, rancher, Sheriff Appleson of Imperial county today was engaged on two lines of investigation.

One theory, which Los Angeles officers aided in investigating, was that the two men suspected of complicity in the bombing of the Oscar Lawler home at Los Angeles, had killed the storekeeper first and then killed McElhaney when he came to aid Bailey.

The other theory is that it was a murder of revenge, Bailey having figured in more than one bitter criminal case in Southern California and he himself was once acquitted of murder in Imperial county. More recently he was a witness in a Hindu murder trial at San Diego.

It is understood Imperial county authorities are placing more credence on the latter theory, despite the fact that $400 is reported missing from Bailey's store, indicating a robbery motive.

SEEK NAVY YARD FOR NEWPORT HARBOR

Secretary Metzgar, Chamber Commerce Asks Officials To Inspect Bay

PORT CAN'T BE SEEN BY SHIPS ON OCEAN

Government Men Will Be Seen at San Diego By Santa Ana Boosters

WITH Rear Admiral John S. McCain indicating that more navy yards will be necessary to take care of the Pacific fleet on this coast, a movement is now on foot to interest a committee of navy men in Newport Harbor as a location for a yard.

Secretary Metzgar of the Chamber of Commerce has sent telegrams to Rear Admiral McCain, Rear Admiral C. W. Parks, Commander James C. Hilton and Congressman Wm. Kettner at San Diego, extending an invitation for them to inspect Newport Bay.

"The Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce cordially invited you to make inspection of Orange county's harbor at Newport Bay," reads the telegram.

"Development under bond issue recently voted indicates splendid opportunity for government uses."

Metzgar and others will avail themselves of an opportunity to see members of the committee at San Diego, going down for the fleet reception and will make a call on the navy men as an incident of the trip.

Chance to Co-Operate

With the harbor plans developed as they are and work soon to commence, it would be a fine opportunity for the government to co-operate at this time to the extent of indicating plans for work that later might work into general plans for a yard should Newport be deemed at all as within the possibility of selection.

The natural landlocked harbor offers splendid facilities for navy yards, with the upper bay susceptible of improvement that would give an absolutely invisible sight from the ocean.

The upper bay is about four miles from Balboa and by the winding of the channel, with points sticking out here and there, it is impossible to see the head of the bay from the ocean. This is a very important feature, or would be in case of the United States becoming involved in a war in which the Pacific ocean might be the center of fighting action of the craft of the opposing nations.

The boosters for the harbor will never overlook an opportunity to bring the bay to the attention of the government when anything of the character of a navy yard is up for consideration. A naval training station also is another feature the local boosters have hope of locating on the bay.

WOMAN TAKES BLAME BUT MAN IS JAILED

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 6.—Despite her urgent pleas that she be arrested and Roy McWhitney of Seattle, held on a Mann Act charge, be freed, Mrs. Margaret Worthington Sherrow, of Seattle, was at liberty today.

McWhitney is held on a charge of bringing Mrs. Sherrow to Los Angeles for immoral purposes.

"I alone am to blame," she sobbed to Deputy J. S. Marshall Walton. "Please arrest me and let me take the blame. He didn't know I was married. I paid my own fare and came here to be near him. He expected to marry me and I didn't like to tell him I was not divorced."

AMERICAN LEAGUE PLAN CAN'T BE FOUND

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—The plan finally adopted for the League of Nations is far superior to the so-called American plan, Secretary Lansing declared today before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Senator Lodge began the questioning of Lansing by asking where the committee can get a copy of the American plan for the league. Lansing said he did not know.

The state department has no copy, he said, and none was ever laid before the peace conference.

"Who wrote the American plan," Lansing was asked.

"I presume the President wrote it," Lansing said.

Lansing denied that it was written by two New York attorneys.

General Bliss, Lansing said, in the name of other members of the peace delegation wrote a letter to the President a week before the Shantung question was settled.

"The President conferred with the Japanese situation and he wanted to know if we would communicate our views in writing, Lansing told the committee.

"Gen. Bliss prepared a letter which he showed to Mr. White and myself and we concurred in it. It was some days before the Shantung decision was announced and was in the nature of advice to the President."

"Did the advice correspond with what was accomplished?" asked Senator Borah.

"No," Lansing answered.

Lansing denied the letter was a protest since it was written about a week before the decision was made.

BULLETINS

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Twenty care oranges, no lemons sold. Market 25 to 75 cents lower on oranges. Averages, $2.95 to $7.70. Highest price, 14 boxes Old Mission, $8. Weather: showers; 8 a. m., temperature, 68.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—The Federal Trade Commission submitted a report to Congress today declaring that high prices of shoes are unjustified. They said a year's investigation had shown all connected with shoe manufacture and sale are making unprecedented profits. The report said some retailers are making as high as 50 per cent profit.

Navy Head Takes Map of Newport Harbor; Fleet To Be Near Shore

Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels stopped in Santa Ana this afternoon for a few minutes. With him were Mrs. Daniels, Congressman William Kettner of San Diego, Commander Percy W. Foote, who is Secretary Daniels' aide, and George Burnham, a San Diego banker.

Three things featured the brief visit.

First, Secretary Daniels was shown a map of Newport Harbor. He took that map with him, and said he would look into the project of government aid for the harbor and for the establishment of a naval training station at the head of Newport Bay.

Second, Congressman Kettner declared that all arrangements had been made for having the fleet on its way from San Diego to San Pedro to go close to the shore of Orange county.

Third, Mrs. Daniels, a woman of charming personality, discovered that W. P. Hughes, local recruiting officer for the navy, was on the Jacob Jones when that vessel, at the time in command of her brother, Lieutenant Commander David Worth Bagley, was torpedoed and sunk.

Only Brief Visit

With engagements at San Diego, the party could stop only a few minutes. Arrangements had been made for an explanation of the Newport Harbor plan to Secretary Daniels. The secretary and Congressman Kettner were ushered upstairs to the Chamber of Commerce rooms, where a map of the harbor was spread out on a table, and Engineer Barnard, who is engineer for the harbor project, explained what had been done by Newport Beach as a city, what is to be done with the $500,000 raised by Orange county bonds, and what can be done in the way of commercial business.

Secretary Daniels showed that he was familiar with the project.

"In the old days, where did the freight land?" he asked. That was shown him.

"We want to get a naval training school on the mesa at the head of the bay right here, five miles from Santa Ana," said L. H. Wallace, secretary of the County Harbor Commission.

George Burnham interrupted the proceedings, saying that the journey to San Diego must be resumed.

"There will be plenty of opportunity for the people of Southern California to see the fleet," said Congressman Kettner. "Arrangements have been made for it to come close to the shores of this county. It will remain along the coast of the state south of San Francisco until September 1, when it goes to San Francisco for the President's visit."

Meeting Hughes

While Secretary Daniels was in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, Mrs. Daniels was escorted by Postmaster Overshiner into the navy recruiting office, which she had expressed a desire to see.

W. P. Hughes and H. S. Wilbur, local recruiting men, had met the automobile, and had saluted the Secretary and his party upon its arrival.

Inquiry very quickly developed the fact that Hughes was aboard the Jacob Jones when it was torpedoed. Mrs. Daniels expressed the greatest kind of interest in Hughes' story, and

Palmer also told the president that all the machinery of the department of justice had already been set in motion to stop food hoarding and profiteering, and indicated he intended to make examples of some of the worst offenders.

Julius H. Barnes, head of the United States grain corporation, has taken steps to bring about an immediate reduction in food prices by forcing down the price of flour. Barnes announced he would sell standard export flour everywhere in the United States at $10 a barrel, which is $1.00 a barrel lower than any price prevalent during the last four months.

The guaranteed wheat price to farmers, $2.26 a bushel, will be maintained, Barnes stated.

An excess profits tax that would reach every profiteer was advocated today by Senator Capper, Kansas.

ADDRESS TO CONGRESS EXPECTED FRIDAY

Program Will Be Given to Solons and Action Urged By President

WILL ASK NEW LAWS TO CURB PROFITEERS

Regulation of Cold Storage Companies and Movement of Food Planned

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—President Wilson plans to address congress next Friday on the high cost of living situation, according to unofficial information at the White House today.

The president today began work on the message he is to read to congress within a few days outlining a program to reduce the cost of living.

The message, it is understood, will ask for new laws, better to enable the government to war on food profiteers, hoarders and others who are directly and willfully contributing to high prices.

One of the president's recommendations for new legislation is expected to deal with some form of regulation of cold storage companies. This would prevent holding of food in storage for high prices.

Regulations governing transportation of food also will be touched upon by the president, it was learned.

A proposal to reduce the amount of paper money in circulation is not expected to get much attention in the president's message. Cabinet members who studied the proposal yesterday could not agree that this would prove a practical method of lowering prices.

The president is known to have before him a strong recommendation for licensing corporations in interstate business to prevent them engaging in business closely allied to their own.

Cabinet members who studied a proposal to revive the food administration failed to reach an agreement on this point. Although the administration may not be revived, its machinery will be used to the fullest in an effort to prevent food hoarding and price boosting.

The recommendations which Wilson has on his desk while he is drafting his message were submitted to him late yesterday by Attorney General Palmer. They were drawn up by a committee of eleven cabinet members and other high government officials, after consultation with economic experts, and after studying a report submitted by Federal Trade Commissioner Colver, Rail Director Hines and Assistant Treasury Secretary Leffingwell, who surveyed the whole food situation.

Palmer also told the president that all the machinery of the department of justice had already been set in motion to stop food hoarding and profiteering, and indicated he intended to make examples of some of the worst offenders.

DANIELS' PARTY STOPS SHORT TIME HERE

Secretary of Navy Takes Map of Newport Harbor to Study Place

In answer to her questions, Hughes stated that he was in the icy water for seventeen hours before he was rescued.

Mrs. Daniels introduced Secretary Daniels to the naval recruiting officers. "Mr. Hughes was with David on the Jacob Jones when it was struck," said she. Instantly there was the deepest interest expressed by Secretary Daniels, and he took Hughes' hand and held it in a firm grip for fully a minute while he talked to him. Commander Foote had not entered the building.

City Recorder W. F. Heathman recognized Commander Foote, and the two were shaking hands in the warmest kind of fashion, for the two had not met for many years. They are second cousins.

Forced by washouts on the Santa Fe line to alter his original plan to go direct to San Diego, the Secretary arrived in Los Angeles over the Southern Pacific about 1 a. m. today, going immediately to a hotel for rest.

"We will have our biggest dreadnaughts and destroyers in these waters," Daniels declared in the course of a brief interview with newspapermen. He expressed great satisfaction at having been able to come to the coast to greet the navy's fighters.

With Secretary Daniels are Mrs. Daniels and two sons, Jonathan and Frank Daniels; Admiral McGowan; Admiral Parker, Admiral McKean and Commander Foote.

Daniels Favors One Great Fleet For Acting Quickly

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 6.—Two great naval forces under the American flag to be known as American Fleets Nos. 1 and 2, ready for equally effective service on either the Atlantic or Pacific, is what Secretary Daniels believes should be the American naval plan.

"To my mind there should be no Pacific fleet and no Atlantic fleet," the secretary declared today in an interview just before leaving for San Diego by automobile.

"It should be American Fleets Nos. 1 and 2, equally divided and capable of being quickly shifted from one coast to another as occasion arises."

"Ever since my first visit here I have felt that the Pacific coast because of many advantages which we all know, should have a much greater share of our naval establishment," Daniels continued. "There should be larger naval bases, more drydock repair stations and an equal division of the great American fleet."

"This is a great climate, a fine place for men to live and prosper and the commerce of the Pacific has a tremendous future and a splendid present." Discussing the plan for the establishment of "a second Annapolis" on the Pacific coast, Daniels declared it was a matter which is yet to be taken up with officials of various coast cities. He said he proposed to study the matter while in the west and consider the many advantages offered.

Fleet Behind Schedule at Coronado Islands, Report

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 6.—The Pacific fleet will anchor off the Coronado Islands, 17 miles south of this port, today, the navy radio announced early today. The fleet has been delayed, it was announced, being due at the islands at daybreak.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—President Wilson today wrote a letter to Representative Mondell, Republican floor leader, declining to postpone his address on the cost of living from Friday to Monday. Mondell had read in newspapers that the President contemplated appearing before Congress Friday and he communicated with Secretary Tumulty and asked if postponement were possible. Mondell told Tumulty many congressmen have left town and that it is doubtful if a quorum can be obtained by Friday. The President, it was learned, will address a joint session of both houses at 4 p. m. Friday.

bill to that end. All over "a reasonable profit" would be turned into the government treasury under his plan.

Nothing in his plan would be allowed to interfere with legitimate profits. He proposed a judicial commission which would determine the legitimate margins for various lines of business. Income tax files of the collector of internal revenue, which contain a detailed statement of expenses and profits of every business man in the United States, would be made available.

Ample authority would be given to prevent padding of costs to cover profits.

Vice President White, of Armour & Company, testifying before the senate sub-committee investigating profiteering, also suggested an excess profits tax of this nature. Excess taxes would catch dealers who were profiteering in shoes at present, he said.

ness, Snellgrove was heard to tell his wife, when the officers arrived at Ramona Acres, to be sure and destroy the pictures. The pictures of Snellgrove showing him in uniform were taken from the walls and buried in the yard of the Snellgrove home, according to the witness. The morning after the arrest of Snellgrove Under Sheriff Inman and Attorney Menton returned to the premises, but a thorough search failed to reveal the pictures.

Whether Snellgrove was actually in the pay, and honorably discharged or whether he was discharged for some offense, or whether he was a secret agent of the German government has not yet been ascertained, said Attorney Menton today.

Snellgrove, according to Attorney Menton, was dependent upon a monthly remittance, sent from Germany by relatives of his wife. The remittance was stopped during the war, Snellgrove, according to reports to the attorney, had no occupation, but went to work when it appeared that he was about to be drafted into the army. Snellgrove claims to have been born in Texas, and his wife is a native of Germany.

The complaint against Snellgrove was sworn to on July 22 by Camille Methivier, mother of Lillian Doyas-bere. The specific offense charged against Snellgrove is alleged in the complaint to have been committed on June 14.

Snellgrove and his wife, who were intimate friends of Mr. and Mrs. Methivier, visited frequently at the Methivier home at 209 Halladay street, this city, according to Attorney Menton. Lillian Doyas-bere, Menton states, was frequently alone in the house with the Snellgroves, the girl's mother and her step-father being employed during the day at the Kaufmann spotlight factory on East First street.

Questioning by Mrs. Methivier brought from the girl the story upon which the mother bases her charge against Snellgrove.

Plan for Improvement of County Park is Submitted

District Attorney L. A. West Presents Outline to Supervisors Calling For Reservoir, Tennis Courts, and Ball Grounds

District Attorney L. A. West today presented to the Board of Supervisors a plan for the improvement of Orange County Park.

The plan submitted to the Board of Supervisors by District Attorney West follows:

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors of the County of Orange:

Gentlemen: Agreeably to your request and pursuant to my promise so to do, I have outlined a general plan and policy (subject to your approval or modification) for the improvement and development of Orange County Park, being the 160 acres of land deeded to the County of Orange by James Irvine, and situated in Santiago canyon. Said outline of plan and policy is as follows:

1. The object of said improvement and development being two-fold: (a) for recreation, (b) for ornamentation. All plans, specifications and suggestions must be such as will at all times harmonize with the existing natural conditions of said park. If any plans, specifications or systems are submitted, which will not at all times so conform to said natural conditions and features, such plans and specifications will be forthwith rejected.

New Entrance Suggested.
a. Design appropriate entrance of lasting and permanent character, but of such a nature as not to mar or obstruct the vista at entrance.

b. Design ornamental fencing of front entrance line of the park, also exterior boundary lines of park, making, however, the ornamental marking on exterior boundary lines other than the front entrance line of greater spaces than the front.

c. Design and specify improvement of existing artificial lake, including (1) enlargement, (2) plan for eradication of, also prevention of growth of mosses and other deleterious growths.

d. Design and specify the clearing out of such portions of jungle undergrowth as will preserve the harmony of the natural conditions, conserving at the same time, however, such of the younger trees and natural growth of like character, so that the future growth of such trees and other growth retained will increase the forestry of the park, and in the portions cleared, out and in all other places suitable therefor, provide grass plots and grassing, thus taking away the barren effect of the cleared places and relieving the parched effect of present places not supplied with grass.

Water System.
e. Design and specify a water system including a reservoir for the storage of water for sprinkling purposes, and outline with specifications for underground or automatic sprinkling, the supply for such purpose coming from said reservoir. This should be so arranged that it will afford ample facilities for sprinkling all grassed places as well as the keeping down of the dust throughout all the generally used portions of the park and the drive-ways and walks therein.

f. Locate at proper place and provide specifications for swimming pool, with supply of water therefor coming from said reservoir, with outlet therefrom to such proper place as may be required whether in gravel bed or otherwise, so as not to pollute the water in the stream flowing through the park. This pool as well as reservoir, to be of suitable concrete construction and designer will be required to furnish estimate of cost thereof in each instance.

Suggests New Pavilions.
g. Provide and furnish specifications for additional pavilions, at suitable locations to harmonize with the general or natural conditions of the park. In connection with this, provide for the removal or change of location of such buildings or structures as are now on the park grounds, if such change be required.

h. Locate at proper place such additional slides for recreation and amusement as may be required, including in this item the location and construction of a bump-the-bumps slide on the steep grade near the southwest end of the artificial lake. This slide should extend from the top to the base of said grade and should be twenty-five or thirty feet wide and with roofing to protect from the weather. Proper stairways on either side of this structure should also be provided.

i. Provide at suitable places additional picnic grounds with suitable facilities for cooking, etc., to accommodate the large number of people visiting the Park.

Wants Lasting Improvements.
j. Construct at suitable places, appropriate restrooms. In all improvements and construction the sanitary conditions must be well cared for in such way that the improvement or improvements in this respect will be of lasting and durable character and all drain pipes, sewer lines, etc., must be delineated upon the plans so that the location thereof can readily be ascertained.

k. Provide at all picnic places and at other suitable points in the park, drinking fountains for the accommodation of the public. Also, design and provide for sufficient number of comfortable park benches to be distributed throughout the Park.

l. In all structures to be erected or improvements to be made, the general plan shall carry the suggestion of one suitable driveway through the park, together with such walks as may be necessary to conform to the natural conditions and the improvements outlined. It is suggested that no cement or concrete drives or walks should be laid out, all drives and walks to be graveled or of such other construction as will harmonize with the natural conditions of the park. In this connection, provide parking space for automobiles and other vehicles.

Ball Grounds Suggested.
m. Provide at suitable locations, space for and lay out indoor baseball and ball ground for the national game, to-wit: baseball. Preferably this should be at the easterly side of the park.

n. Provide for tennis courts at suitable locations.

o. Provide for the planting of shrubbery and trees of character and kind suitable to the soil and climatic conditions considering at all times the present growth and forestry of the park.

p. Provide for the removal of the tablet showing that the park was donated to the County by James Irvine, and provide for suitable tablet showing such fact at, on or near the entrance to the park.

q. Provide for attaining water in present channel of creek, so that damage to park grounds will not be sustained during any one flood season, and also provide for several small pools of water in the creek, but not in such a way as to obstruct the use of the water by the residents below the park.

Work in One-Year Periods.

r. The landscape architect will carry in mind in furnishing his plans and specifications for the work as herein generally outlined, that the County of Orange in making said improvements will do so by periods of one year each, and not as a whole and the work shall be so laid out that the completion of one portion thereof will, if possible, be independent of the work to be done thereafter, it being understood that the Board of Supervisors will appropriate out of the revenues of said County annually sums approximating $10,000.00 until said improvements together with such additional improvements as may be suggested by the architect are completed. Landscape architects will furnish plans and specifications for said improvements, but will not be expected to superintend the construction thereof, unless satisfactory arrangements are made to that end.

s. In conclusion, it is recommended that the Park Committee of the Board of Supervisors make recommendations to the Board as a whole as to a suitable landscape architect or architects to be employed to make specifications and plans for carrying into execution the foregoing general outline.

Respectfully submitted,

L. A. WEST.

EDISON COMPANY MOVES TO NEW LOCATION

Good Light and Arrangement of Fixtures Make the Place Attractive

The Edison Company today is doing business in its new home at the corner of Main and Third streets, in the Chas. F. Smith building.

The arrangement of the front office is more convenient than in the old location, with a flood of light from two sides available for the office force.

The quarters just vacated by the company has long been occupied by it, and it is very probable that the new location will be the office of the company for many years to come.

The fixtures and arrangement of the office is said to compare most favorably with the most attractive offices of the company in Southern California.

At the request of the French government, United States women expert canners have gone to that country to teach their methods.

SALT LAKE R. R. MEN STOP HERE OVER NIGHT

Visit Believed to Indicate Company Has Big Plans Under Consideration

T. C. Peck and Frank H. Adams, general passenger agent and district freight agent, respectively of the Salt Lake, were over-night visitors in Santa Ana, stopping at the Rossmore Hotel. They went down Newport way this morning to visit with a friend.

The gentlemen made a tour over the city early in the evening, and while they did not disclose the purpose of their visit, it is believed to have been with a view to securing a location for re-opening of the Salt Lake office in this city when the railroads are returned to private ownership.

It is believed the company hopes to continue with the extension of its line from Los Angeles to Santa Ana, as soon as it can, and it may be that this fact had something to do with the visit here of the officials.

The fact that they stopped here over night, when a ride of an hour and a quarter would have returned

HOW ABOUT IT?

The color of a man's cuticle, or the straightness or kinkiness of his hair may affect the unromantic exhalations of him on a hot day, but it does not appear that they affect his courage, his endurance, or his patriotism. The charge of the white six hundred at Balaklava, and the brave conduct of the colored Ninth Infantry at San Juan Hill, entitle the heroes—whether white, or black—who fought for their respective countries in these signal engagements to the plaudits of mankind.

The colored troops sent to France have been commended for their courage and intelligence by their white comrades. If the true history of the recent race riots in the East should be written it would probably be found that white anarchists and I. W. W.'s were the aggressors.

A first fight for revenue only is an expression of the lowest nature of the combatants. It is brutality pure and simple. And yet such writers as Rex Beach and Jack London debauched their splendid intellects by exuberating over the physiological qualities with which they endowed Jeffries the white man, and which they denied to Johnson the black man. They might as well have dilated upon the physiological differences between a black and a white rooster. A dark blue Andalusian jackass will kick a grizzly bear into "inocuous desuetude," yet the grizzly remains the nobler animal on the public estimation.

The relation of the white and black race was once pitifully stated by Abraham Lincoln. "Because," said he, "I do not want a colored woman for my slave, it does not follow that I do want her for my wife."

It was even more pitifully stated by the colored porter at Calistoga Springs hotel shortly after the Spanish war. He was shouldering the trunk of a newly-arrived guest, who stopped him. "Are you not," said the guest, "Sergeant Jasper of the colored United States Infantry?" "No, suh," replied the darkey, "I was Sergeant Jasper; but now that I am no longer needed to stand between a white man and a Spanish bullet, I'm the same damned nigger that I always was."

TWO WAYS OF PAYING

Why is it that cities as a rule have a large proportion of poor streets?

Why is it that you may ride for miles on state and county highways and only too often know the minute you come to a city's limits?

Certainly, it can't be that cities are ignorant of the value of good roads?

The Vrooman Act and kindred state legislation are responsible. Cities of the state a long time ago secured laws by which they could compel property owners to pay for street improvements in front of their properties. Property owners can be made to pay for street improvements, even if the improvements are worth more than the property. Because they have these laws, cities have come to depend upon them as their principal method of getting street work done.

A city council might acknowledge that a certain street ought to be paved, but knowing that a street should be paved and getting it paved are two different things. Most California cities have become so used to compelling property owners to pay for the paving of its street that there appears to be no other feasible way to get the work done. When it comes to compelling property owners to stand the expense, the personal equation comes in often as an obstacle. The frontage may be acreage property, possibly of low value. Paving under the Vrooman Act in some instances practically amounts to confiscation. Most city trustees are intensely human. They hate to stand sponsor for taking the widow's mite or for putting another burden on a man who is struggling to hang on. Because of injustices that may be done, many a city board has left unpaved a street that it knows it ought to pave.

The state and counties have been going at the street paving problem in a different way. When it is acknowledged that certain highways ought to be paved, a bond issue is secured and the whole state or the whole county pays for the improvement.

The theory of the Vrooman Act is that adjoining property gets the real benefit of street improvement. The theory under which the state and counties have proceeded is that everybody gets the benefit of street improvement, and that what benefit comes to adjoining property owners is merely incidental to the general benefit.

Whichever theory carries with it the greatest amount of practical justice need not be discussed here, but the conclusion is inevitable that when it comes to getting the thing done that ought to be done, and that the public in general wants done, the methods followed by the state and counties have been productive of the best results. In this day of good roads, every city ought to go forward in some adequate way to pave every highway connecting with main highways, to put those streets into the best possible shape. Santa Ana has its own problem of this nature to deal with, and its city trustees are determined to go ahead with the needed improvements. It is their desire to secure results in the fairest way possible for all concerned.

EXTENDING NEW YORK

Fiction writers used to like to dwell upon the idea of sinking New York into the sea by some Hunnish plot or Martian accident. But it is no fiction writer, no dreamy visionary, who has the latest idea of building Manhattan Island two miles more into the sea. It is Dr. T. Kennard Thomson, a famous consulting engineer, and an authority on pneumatic caissons, who wants to do this.

The picture of Dr. Thomson's plan is in the July Popular Science Monthly. It shows an extension built on to the Battery, two miles long and two miles wide. Great sea walls extend out into the harbor in the direction of Staten Island. Land is filled in behind these walls, and on it are buildings with roomy, flat roofs suitable for airplane landings.

At present there are no roofs in New York big enough for airplane use. This would provide landings for the air traffic of many years in the future.

It would cost about $100,000,000, says Dr. Thomson. It would be worth much more than that. Air facilities, building space, added dockage space of some seven miles would far more than repay the cost of building the new city.

"Nothing is impossible" might well be the motto of this new century. To a city which has tunneled under the Hudson and East River in many places and bridged them in many others, a trifle like building a few miles of sea wall and reclaiming the land will Italy want these things when land thus cut out of the harbor seems easy enough.

Italy wants American coal and American shoes. There is an old proverb which says, "the worth of a thing is learned by the want of it." she finds out how much they are worth? No, not what they are worth—what they cost.

Build Now
Stockton Record

As compared to other commodities the cost of building is far less than may be generally supposed. Government figures show that the average cost of all commodities has increased 113 per cent while the cost of building materials has increased but 61 per cent.

The government's statistics show that the cost of construction is less today than it was in 1866, following four years of Civil war in this country. Then the high prices continued four years in the face of an unstable labor market.

Lumber men predict lumber will continue to increase in cost and all are agreed that materials are cheaper today than they will be for several years to come.

Estimates made several months ago as to the demand that might be made upon the local yards fell short of the developments and where the supply is to come from to meet the demand that the outlook indicates is beginning to be a problem that will be not without its difficulties.

"Build now" is as prudent a slogan as it was immediately after the armistice was signed and those who delay will pay the difference in present prices and the increase that is certain to be in all lines of materials that enter into home building.

Negative Men
Boston Transcript

Is there a negative man among your acquaintances? They are quite common, and if there is one in your circle you are fully aware of his existence.

What is a negative man? He is the man who always sees the negative side; the man who remarks, "Did you ever see such a miserable exhibition?" or, "Did you ever hear of such a tomfool thing?" or, "Did you see in this morning's paper that bullheaded statement?" and so on, indefinitely.

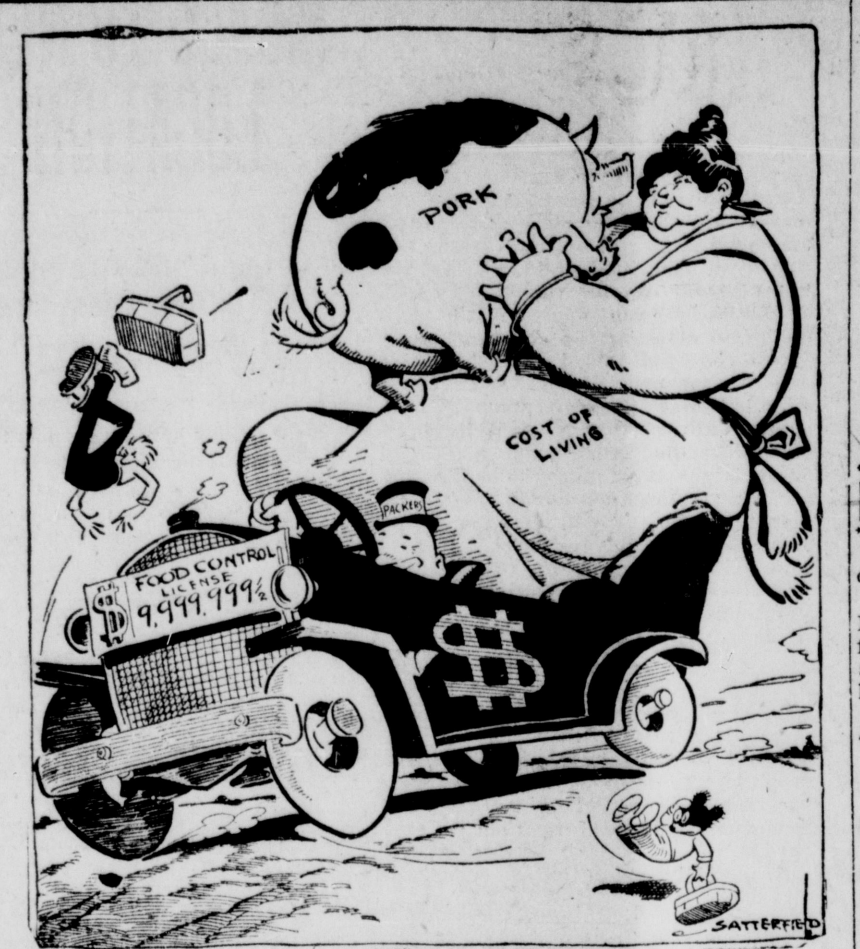

The negative man is so from temperament or from habit or a mixture of the two. He may not be wholly true, some, he may in fact be very amusing at times, but his negativism is his dominant characteristic. There are no bright colors in his spectrum.

In the Lap of Luxury

Our Lemons and Tariff

(From San Bernardino Sun)

We note from various sources that Congressman William Kettner has introduced a measure seeking to increase the tariff on imported lemons to one cent per pound. From the same sources, including Mr. Kettner himself, we learn that he introduced the same measure in the last Congress, which was controlled by his own political party, and the party leaders promptly put Mr. Kettner's measure in the waste basket or some place else where it was never heard from again, because they were not granting protection to California products nor other products as a matter of protection, for they do not believe in it, and their action squares with their faith.

The sequel is not far to find. The equivalent of 1000 carloads of foreign lemons was landed on the New York docks between June 23 and July 14, equal to one-twelfth of the entire California crop. Of course the bottom dropped out of the lemon market, and it is said that some shippers drew "red ink" returns. All because there was no tariff of one cent a pound on citrus fruit.

We trust Mr. Kettner's measure may become a law, and we are only taking this method of calling attention to the fact that if it does, it will be rather conclusive evidence of the fact that he had to take it to a Republican Congress to get consideration.

His heart has heard the singing
Of books and bees and birds—
He knows the chattels clinging
To hackneyed human words.

He feels through all his numbers
The nagging throbs of thought;
His lightest measure lingers
With fancies feebly wrought.

He seeks to ease the burnings
Which some assuage in tears;
He fain would still the yearnings

INSURANCE OF SOLDIER

A woman automobile editor, one of the best known writers of the State of Texas, Miss Nannie Hillary Harrison, of Ft. Worth, Tex., is here for a visit with her cousin, Mrs. Victor Montgomery.

Miss Harrison's ability and work as a writer of verse and chat is well known among newspaper people. Sometime not long ago she decided to take a hand in the live news end of newspaper work. The decision was somewhat forced upon her by the business manager of the Ft. Worth Record. He wanted an automobile editor, one with pep and ginger in writing. He had read Miss Harrison's verses and chats in another paper, and he decided that her work had the vim he wanted.

A woman automobile editor was an innovation. It didn't seem possible. Miss Harrison looked askance at the offer, but with characteristic force and resourcefulness she sailed into the job and made a phenomenal success of her department.

Oil got to going strong in Texas, and Miss Harrison developed herself into an expert writer upon the subject of oil and upon Texas oil fields. While here she is to be shown the Orange county oil fields.

NOSING AROUND

By Herman Reuter
Was talking with Bill Jerome the other day and—
He told me a story about Herman Noll of Anaheim. Herman took his family and motored across country to attend the Elks' convention at Atlantic City and—

It took Herman two weeks to travel 400 miles in Texas, but—
This story has to do with tips—
Not with trips and—
Unless you tip you are in bad in the East and—

Bill Jerome ought to know; he was at Atlantic City, too, and—
He knows that hotel porters, waiters, etc., all have aggravated cases of the

ITCHING PALM. Anyway—
Herman took his wife and sister-in-law and several others to a restaurant one night, where there was dancing and music and cabaretting and everything and—

Where you could get a good meal for $1000 and—
The bill came and—
After it had arrived Herman saw it was for $20, but—

That was all right, and—Herman came across with the 20 berries and—Added another dollar, thinking that perhaps the poor hard-working waiter might be able to struggle along with a dollar tip, but—

The waiter said haven't you forgotten something and—
No, I don't think so, said Herman, and—

Ten per cent, said the waiter, and—
TEN PER CENT FOR WHAT, asked Herman, and—Left the cafe and—

He felt wrathful toward that restaurant and toward the waiter, and—I can't say that I blame him.

But Gavy Cravath seems to be hauling his Phils out of the cellar now and—Vic Walker is proud of him and—
We're all proud of Gavy, just as proud as we can be, and—

We seem to feel that if Gavy gets half a chance next season the Phils will be dallying around the top of the heap, rather than the bottom, so—Things aren't as bad as they might be.

Good night.
Since coming back to Santa Ana from the other side I've been impressed with how busy everybody is in this section and—

It's really remarkable, the speed with which everything seems to be going and—Everybody seeming to make money and—

When I hear about orange groves selling at $5000 an acre I can hardly believe my ears, but—
I do hear that the bean men haven't been hitting the ball as hard as they might this season what with no rain and with labor scarce—

And everything, but—
They must be managing to scrape along somehow because—Bill Diers is doing a lot of business for the Lutz Company, selling a new bean-cutting implement to the bean men. It is a machine which is called a side carrier or—

Something like that, and it does away with a considerable amount of labor that used to require extra men and—
Bill sold 36 of them in one day, during fourteen hours and—
They were all sales right in the office, and—

When he left the office he sold four more of the machines down town and—
I got to thinking that even if the bean men are not having such a high batting average this year things aren't as bad as they might be and—
No doubt next year there will be lots of rain and—

The bean men will make another big cleaning, not alone of their crops, but on their crops.

I've been wanting to tell everybody how good it made me feel to be welcomed home the way I've been welcomed during the past week—
But I didn't know exactly how to go about it, because—

Everybody was so busy telling me how glad they were that I was back again, and how tip-top I looked and—Everything that I couldn't get a word in edgewise and—

Every time I'd try to start and say how much I appreciated the kindness of the home folks, they would shut me off and—
Ask me something about France, or how I enjoyed my experiences and—I didn't get a chance, so—

I'm telling you now, all of you, what a big difference it makes to get a welcome like that given me and—
Somehow it makes a fellow want to be a better friend to his friends than he was before and—

It makes him proud—than ever to be able to call a city like Santa Ana his home.

Yes, two years make a big difference and—
Some of you are a little grayer than you were when I left and—
Some of you have had experiences that left their marks in your faces and—

There are some who are not here, who were here when I left, because—
The hand of Death was rather heavy here and—
It all makes a fellow feel rather sad and—

Makes him determined to be a little kinder than he used to be, toward his friends, for—
No one can ever tell when fate will take away those who are closest to us.

Mrs. Andrist Improving Slowly

Mrs. G. F. Andrist, who is staying in the Long Beach sanitarium and being treated for neuritis, writes the Register that she is slowly improving but will stay about two weeks longer. That she is better will be good news to her many friends in this city and vicinity.

Benefit Art Students

The fund being raised for the girls who lost many of their belongings, brushes and artists' materials in a fire which destroyed the J. George Hunter home at Laguna Beach recently, was very satisfactorily increased last Monday evening by the little comedy playlet, "All on Account of Polly." The entertainment was given in the girls' high school at Riverside by the young people who have been studying under Miss Nunn this summer.

Dodge Social "Fuss"

Ignoring all wedding conventionalities and discarding all intended pre-nuptial events, Miss Mary Conterno of Ocean Park, well-known society girl, and Eldred Leigh Meyer of San Francisco surprised intimate friends by slipping quietly away to this city Monday, where they were married. Not until yesterday morning did the marriage become known in the Santa Monica bay district, where the bride is well known.

All of the bride's friends had been looking forward to her wedding as one of the social events of October. A number of pre-nuptial showers and entertainments had been arranged for her. Mrs. Meyer announced that she was leaving for Clifton, Ariz., at once where her husband has extensive business connections.

The elopement was evidently arranged beforehand, as Monday Mrs. Meyer and her mother, Mrs. Gatti, went to Los Angeles to do some shopping. They met Mr. Meyer by appointment and after luncheon she proposed that she and her intended visit one of the theaters. Mrs. Gatti returned home and late in the evening they telephoned the announcement of their marriage to her.

Secret Learned

Implying to their friends that they had gone to Santa Ana for a little pleasure trip, Miss Maud Louise Wilmoth and Claude St. Clair of San Bernardino were quietly married recently by Rev. F. T. Porter of the First Christian Church at his home. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Eastwood.

The couple intended to keep the ceremony secret but the news preceded them and upon their return were received by their friends with best wishes and congratulations. Mr. and Mrs. St. Clair are planning to leave on an extended honeymoon and upon their return will make their home in San Bernardino, where they have lived for some time.

Meet With Miss McKinney

Miss Grace McKinney was hostess to the Camp Fire Girls of the Congregational church yesterday. The evening was spent in business and games, for which prizes were awarded.

Those present were Misses Marjorie Smith, Lois Sweet, Jean Winslow, Helen Bows, Mabel Harvey, Zora Hagaman, Pauline Carnahan, Gladys Swarthout, Evelyn Hoffman and the hostess.

Eastern Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Sill motored down from their home in Pasadena yesterday to visit with Mrs. Fannie Lash, bringing with them, Mrs. Olive Hemspead of Chicago, Mrs. W. A. Reed and daughter, Miss Rae Reed, of Boone, Iowa, who will visit with Mrs. Lash and her daughter, Miss Holly Lash, and Mrs. Jesse Dinsmore. Mrs. Lash and her friends will attend the Iowa picnic in Long Beach Saturday.

Mrs. E. A. Kirk, who has been with Mrs. Lash the past two weeks, left this morning for Los Angeles, preparatory to her return to her home in Orland, California.

Many See Bill Hart

William S. Hart has been the attraction at the West End Theatre and in the role of "Square Deal Sanderson," the play was full of vim, gun play and excitement. A steady diet of this kind of play is not enjoyed, but once in a while it is "good to be among those present" and see a bunch of heartless villains laid low. A pretty love story is woven through the play, Mary Bransford portrayed by Anna Little being the only woman in the story.

The scenery is beautiful, Arizona being the appropriate ground for the play.

"Bean Day" at Encampment

The eastern excursion, that so many are to take advantage of, has made very little difference at the G. A. R. encampment at Huntington Beach and the attendance is quite remarkable. Yesterday was "bean day" and so far, the largest day they have had. Three hundred and ninety old soldiers, 180 children and about 400 women were served the old-fashioned regular army bean dinner and besides those there were several private picnics. Following the dinner the usual parade and review were given.

There are a number of local people staying at the encampment and a great many spent the day there, returning in the evening. The entertainments have all been very good and this evening a program of music and readings will be given by Santa Ana people under the supervision of Mrs. Cood Adams.

Ward, department secretary; Maurice Phillips, Maud Wallace, who is also staying there; Cood Adams, son, Charles; Miss Bertha Belt, and Miss Edith Ward.

A few others who are staying at the encampment are: Mrs. Harriett Coulter, president of the Relief Corps; Mrs. Sarah Ostot, Mrs. Matilda Glenn, Mrs. Matilda Moesser and daughter, Mrs. Ernest Barger, Mrs. Julia Garrison and Mr. and Mrs. George Ralph.

Camping Trip

W. W. Perkins, Miss Dixie Perkins, Miss Greba Scott, Archie, Arthur, Claire and Miss Elizabeth Perkins, left yesterday for a month's camping trip near Owens Lake. Upon reaching Cowan's Station they will hike the rest of the way to their camping place at the south fork of the Kern river.

Relatives Entertained

Mrs. E. E. McDowell and Mrs. Robert R. Dunn, who are visiting with their sister, Mrs. G. P. Hill, are to have dinner this evening with their niece, Mrs. W. B. Lockett, at Villa Park. Mr. McDowell arrived last evening to spend the remainder of the week here and will go to Los Angeles tomorrow with Mrs. McDowell and Mrs. Dunn to visit with their brother, Gus Axelsson, until Friday.

BRIEFS

In the olden days, a ten-ton scale would weigh any vehicle or loaded wagon operating in Santa Ana. But that day is no more, for many trucks are now operating under loads of twelve, fifteen and nineteen tons. They are too long to get all four wheels upon the old scale and too heavy to be weighed if they could get on. There is still the necessity of weighing heavy loads and in order that they may be accommodated, the Nicholls-Loomis Company, which recently bought out the Walter Moore feed business, is figuring on installing a new twenty-ton scale at its plant here.

Entertains Friends

Ralph Cole was host last evening to several of his friends from Pomona and Ontario, who are staying at Balboa this summer and a number of his schoolmates from Santa Ana, who are spending most of their vacation time at that resort.

Mr. Cole's mother, Mrs. D. G. Cole, had prepared a chicken dinner for the boys and following that very much appreciated part of the evening they went down to the beach for the dance and other amusements sure to be found there.

Covers were laid for Messrs. James Reynolds of Pomona, Holly, Shorty and Fred Mertz and Marvin Welch, from Ontario, Eugene Trago, Hillard Tyrell, Austin Ober, Donald Smith and Ross McPhee.

Open House.

Mrs. Henry G. Nau, of San Bernardino, is occupying the James Rice cottage, Coral Inn, Laguna, during August and September. Recently she held open house to a number of friends, who motored down to spend the day with her. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Nau, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Stevens, and Mr. and Mrs. Adam Zaiser of Tustin. Much of their time was spent in the art gallery, Mr. and Mrs. John Melchior of San Bernardino, were relatives motoring down from their inland home for the day.

City and County Briefs

Marshal "Shorty" Meyers, Bill Goodwin and Harold Waits of Fullerton have returned home from a several days' deer hunting trip to Ventura county. They brought home one large buck deer. The hunters state that deer are plentiful in that county, but they are very wild and hard to get on account of the large number of hunters who flocked there when the season opened last Friday.

R. C. Walker, a well-known resident of Fullerton and a veteran of the Civil War, was taken suddenly ill while attending the encampment at Huntington Beach and was rushed to the Fullerton hospital. He is reported as doing nicely.

In response to a cablegram from her husband, who is now in South America, Mrs. Gaston Bastanchury is leaving Fullerton to join him in Spain. They will spend about six months abroad, returning together about February.

On Friday evening, the annual band street dance will take place on South Claudina street, between Center and Broadway, Anaheim. The band will be located on the vacant space back of the old city hall from which place it will discourse all of the popular airs that it can crowd into one evening. This affair is under the auspices of the Board of Trade and given for the benefit of the band.

The first sale at public auction of school lands under a new California law will be held at Los Angeles August 22 at 10 o'clock. The land offered at this sale is all in Los Angeles county and some of it is said to have prospects of oil and minerals. Most of it is described as grazing land and most of it is valuable for hunting preserves—which is another way of saying that unless it has oil it is worth precious little, but some spirited bidding is expected.

Placido Jacques, who has been employed in the water department for a long time, has been made collector for the department, with his headquarters in the office at the city hall.

Be on the lookout for the shower of meteors due to fill an engagement in this section of the heavens about August 15. It will be a beautiful and awe-inspiring sight. The last visible meteoric shower occurred about 30 years ago this summer.

In the indoor baseball game played last evening between the clerks' team and the post office force, the score was 25 to 0 in favor of the clerks. That is about all that need be said. It was just that kind of a game, with John Criddle of the clerks, pitching fine ball. Over at the post office they are accusing Flake Smith of having sold out to the clerks and he doesn't deny that he received two watermelons from F. C. Blauer, the clerks' manager.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Belle White and daughter, Miss Dorothy, of 829 North Birch street, have just returned from a five weeks' visit at Venice and Ocean Park. They visited Mrs. White's son-in-law, James H. Knowles, of Ocean Park.

Mrs. Mollie Tyrrell is taking her summer vacation, leaving today for Coronado, where she will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Hillard Koehler. She will participate in the fleet festivities. Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Lee, who have been residing on the W. A. Cook lease on the Irvine ranch, have purchased it with the intention of making their home there.

Mit Phillips, J. D. Parsons and C. E. Parker left for Relief Hot Springs, San Jacinto, today, for a couple of weeks' sojourn.

Milton Foster made a trip to Los Angeles today.

Misses Pauline Parsons and Inez Gaves were Los Angeles visitors today.

Miss Katherine Edwards spent today in the Angel City.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Zeillan went to Los Angeles this morning to spend a few days.

Mrs. A. J. Padgham left early this morning for Keen Camp, to resume her vacation.

Mrs. Robert Northcross attended the closing day of the Berkeley summer school in Los Angeles today.

Ruth and Jack Langley are staying this week with their sister, Mrs. Nord Lentz, and their grandfather, E. T. Langley, who are attending the G. A. R. Encampment at Huntington Beach.

Miss Josephine McCrory of Tulsa, Oklahoma, a former teacher in the Santa Ana schools, is visiting at the Ralph Mead home and with other friends.

Miss Grace Whited, who is engaged as dietitian in the Methodist hospital in Los Angeles and formerly head of the domestic science department of the local high school, was in town today transacting business.

Barney Clinard returned this afternoon from a visit in his old home town, Thomasville, and High Point, N. C. He was accompanied by his brother, W. S. Clinard, of Thomasville, who may remain here. High Point is the home of the mother of Carl Mock, who was called home a few days ago by her illness. When Mr. Clinard left she was much improved.

OBITUARY

T. L. O'BRYAN

Judge T. L. O'Bryan was born in Boonville, Cooper county, Mo., April 16, 1839 and died in Santa Ana, Calif., July 29, 1919, aged 80 years, 3 months and 12 days.

He graduated from Kemper Military Academy at Boonville, Mo., in 1853, and since the recent death of ex-Mayor Workman of Los Angeles, he was the only living member of that class.

In 1872 he was grand marshal of the Masonic order of Missouri. He has pioneered in Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma.

He was "broke" financially when he came out of the Confederate army at the close of the Civil war, where he served in the Second Missouri Cavalry under Colonel Bob McCulloch. He went to Kansas after the treaty with the Kiowas, Comanches, Apaches and Cheyennes, and located at Medicine Lodge, where he was probate judge for several years, and when "The Strip" opened he moved to Woodward, Okla., was appointed U. S. commissioner, serving five years, and later was elected county judge for two terms.

Judge O'Bryan was among the few white people who witnessed the reconciliation between the Ute and Cheyenne Indians in 1897. The grand pow-wow took place on his ranch a few miles north of Woodward, Okla., and marked the end of decades of strife.

Here he lived for twenty years, prior to his coming to Santa Ana, a year ago, to spend the evening of life.

With the passing of Judge O'Bryan, mark the going out of the rare type of the typical Southern gentleman. Even in his last illness he never forgot to be appreciative of the many kindnesses shown by his friends, characteristic of his Southern chivalry.

He held his youth in mind as in body—often bringing snatches of poems in his conversation.

He lived up to his idea of handing his bouquets to his friends while they were there to enjoy them.

He leaves a widow and daughters, Mrs. C. M. Hewins, of Santa Ana, Mrs. W. S. Stump, Tulsa, Okla., and nephew, E. B. Tyler, whom he raised, who recently arrived from Oklahoma to mourn his absence.

He was laid to rest in Fairhaven cemetery. Dr. Davies of the Baptist church, of which he was a member, had charge of the services assisted by the Masons, of Santa Ana.

The True House of Values

A merchandising establishment assuming the slogan of "The House of Values," such as we have assumed in our new name plate, must be a place of business that has proven its worth to the community. It must be a house that has grown up with the community; that takes an active interest in the development of the community where it has succeeded; that contributes to the growth of this community.

The Smart Shop, which began its business in a small room, has grown to its present position as the leading Ladies' Ready-To-Wear establishment of Orange County by reason of its policy to give this community the finest goods the world's market affords.

It has grown to its present position because it is the true "House of Values."

As a concrete example may we call your attention to our window displays. Note the character of the garments, the up-to-the-minute-ness. Clothes such as these are shown only by the finest houses in metropolitan cities. And now comes the most startling factor, the vital thing that makes the Smart Shop a House not alone of ordinary values, but of Super-Values.

These exquisite garments on display in the Smart Shop are sold to you not at metropolitan prices but at prices from 10 to 25 per cent lower. The reason for this has already been explained in a previous advertisement.

Champion Hagen Illustrates Right Way To Hit Golf Ball and Follow Through

WALTER HAGEN

SEATTLE CLUB MAY HAVE NEW MANAGER

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 6.—Bill Clymer, manager of the Seattle baseball club, and President Brewster of the local aggregation, went into conference this morning which will decide whether or not Seattle will have a new Coast League manager.

Clymer has had a stormy career here and the club has won but two games out of the last 21 played. It is Seattle's first year in the Coast League and the club is sunk in the cellar. Charley Mullen, former New York Yankee star, is being mentioned as Clymer's successor.

Watching the Scoreboard

Yesterday's Hero: Jimmy Ring. A native of Brooklyn, Jim got back at the town by trimming its club for the Reds 7 to 2.

The Giants found nothing at Chicago to grasp in their visit to the Cardinals. They slipped further by losing, 2 to 6.

The Braves cracked the Cubs with a 3 to 1 triumph.

Jim Bagby was hailed with acclaim by the Red Sox, as they battered the Indians 7 to 5.

Spec Meadows added another shut-out to his collection by defeating the Pirates for the Phillies, 2 to 0.

Walter Johnson lost another through the Senators when Val Pic-nich pulled off a passed ball that placed the winning Detroit run on second in a 2 to 1 game.

AUSTRALIAN TENNIS STARS WILL BE LATE

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 6.—The Australian tennis stars will be defaulted in the invitational tennis tournament now in progress on the Casino courts here. They will not be able to get here in time to take part in this section of the play, but will be started in the doubles.

Today, the field in the singles was whittled down to considerable extent, but only one really hard match seemed to be in store—Nat W. Niles, of Boston, against the national champion, Robert Lindley Murray.

Other matches were: Richard Norris Williams, II, versus Charles S. Garland; I. Kumagae versus Axel Graven; Thomas C. Bundy versus William M. Johnston.

POLISH WRESTLER IS STRETCHED BY LEWIS

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 6.—Ed "Strangler" Lewis stretched Ivan Grandavich, Polish wrestler, for two straight falls last night.

Lewis took the first fall in 46.29. The second fall was obtained in 26.55. Grandavich showed some aggressiveness in the first period, but was entirely on the defensive in the last half.

RUPPERT AND HUSTON PROMISE INJUNCTION

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Colonels Rupert and Huston, owners of the New York American league club, promised again today to attend to the business of getting an injunction against Ban Johnson so Carl Mays can again go to work. The absence of application to the federal court yesterday, it was explained, was due to the fact that attorneys for the club had not gathered all the necessary information.

WILL TRY COMEBACK

OAKLAND, Aug. 6.—Frankie Faren will attempt another comeback when he backs up against Jimmy Duffey at the Auditorium. Johnny Arroyuz vs. Eddie Landon will be part of the bill of six additional bouts.

GEORGE STOPS NEIL

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 6.—Young George stopped Ray Neil of San Diego in the fourth round of their bout which was the main event of last night's Vernon boxing show.

Keeps His Eye on the White Speck Until End of Its Journey

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Position and the right way to drive are the first things a golfer should try to learn, according to Walter Hagen, national and metropolitan golf champion.

He illustrated several features recently in a talk on how to drive. He takes an easy position beside the ball. As he swings back for the stroke his left knee bends and his eyes are on the ball as he swings down on the tee. In fact his eyes never leave the ball. That is the "follow through" about which so much has been said and which everybody does not understand.

The pictures shown above will give the reader a better idea of what Hagen means to convey than will a printed or verbal description.

JOHNNY KILBANE TO RUN FOR COUNCILMAN

CLEVELAND, Ohio., Aug. 6.—Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, today announced his candidacy for election as councilman here. Kilbane was said to have the support of the Democratic executive committee.

Johnny's popularity was expected to land him in office.

HERR TO KEEP JOB

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 6.—Flat denial that he would give up the management of the Salt Lake team next season was made here today by Eddie Herr.

"Reports saying that I am going back to scout for the big leagues are untrue," said Herr. "I have whittled together a winning team and do not intend to quit."

ELKS MEMORIAL TO BE SILVER LODGE BELL

Material Being Collected For Manufacture; Anyone May Donate Gold, Silver

A silver bell or gong, to be used in the lodge ritualistic work, will within a few months be dedicated as a permanent memorial to Santa Ana Elks who fought and the one who fell in the world war, and take its permanent place in the Elks lodge room, according to plans of a memorial committee consisting of W. W. Wasser, George S. Carroll and Harry Hansen. The bell will be made from old articles of silver donated by Elks and their relatives and friends, and trimmed with gold given in like manner. While Elks are especially asked to make such donations, anyone who wishes to aid the cause in this manner may do so through any member of the committee.

Two or three hundred ounces of silver are desired for the bell, according to announcement of the memorial committee in the "Santa Ana Elk," monthly publication of the local lodge. The announcement reads as follows:

One Gold Star.

"Peace has been signed, our service flag has been withdrawn from public view and it now hangs on the wall of the Lodge Room of our Santa Ana Home. Each of the blue stars on the flag represents one of our Brothers who risked his all in the service of our country during its time of need; and the one GOLD STAR thereon represents that one Brother, Ernest L. Kellogg, who in that awful holocaust of the Argonne, made the supreme sacrifice of his life for the ideals he believed in and supported.

"It is admitted that our Lodge should in some way memorialize the services of those Brothers who joined the ranks of our country's forces, and it has been suggested that the memorial be in the shape of a bell or gong that can be used in our ritualistic work. The aptness of this will at once be apparent to every Elk who realizes the importance of keeping alive the spirit of the motto of the Order, as well as the cherishing of the Toast of the Eleventh Hour. Your officers, in view of the many burdens imposed and borne by every Brother during the war, were unwilling to inflict any further strain, and invited suggestions with regard to the proposed memorial, and the plan outlined briefly here was put before the Lodge and adopted.

Dig Up Silver, Gold.

"The committee appointed asks every Brother to dig up any old silver or gold that may be lying at home unused, such as baby spoons, drinking cups, chains, charms, lockets, etc., and turn them into the Lodge. The value of these articles is negligible, other than sentimental; in most cases they are in the way and your daughter, sweetheart or wife would be glad to give them away if she were assured they could be used for some worthy cause. Your committee feel that some two or three hundred ounces of silver and some gold can be gotten together in this way; when collected it will be sent to some bell founder in the East and cast into either a bell or a gong, according to a design to be decided upon.

"The committee hopes to have the completed article ready not later than the date set for our next Lodge of Sorrow, and to incorporate the dedication of the memorial in the usual ceremonies, in accordance with the rules governing same.

"Now Bill, get busy, dig up all the silver or gold trinkets you have no further actual use for, turn them over to the Secretary or to either Brother Harry Hansen, at the First National Bank, or Geo. Carroll—all of whom are on the committee for the execution of this laudible object. We owe this to those who have risked their all

"The greatest things are done by the help of small ones"

THIS old saying is true in the clothing business as well as in other things. That is why we do not overlook the least little thing that makes for the satisfaction of our customers and the betterment of our service.

Little things that seem insignificant to others are very important to us. What others do good, bad or indifferently, we try to do BEST.

Herein lies the success of this store-service—success that comes from the confidence and satisfaction of our patrons. Confidence and satisfaction that are the result of a broader, more enlightened, more intensified service.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 6.—Catcher Varney, former Santa Clara star, is catching for the Sacramento team during the absence of Bobby Schang from the game. Schang broke his finger and will be out of the game for a month.

'Round Coast League Bases

Justin Fitzgerald stole second and third and pranced home on Dell's wild throw to the hot corner in the eleventh, winning for the Seals over the Tigers, 5 to 4.

Heavy hitting by the Angels ejected Gramer and R. Arlett from the Oakland mound. The Scorpions flew away with the game, 17 to 2.

A rise into the ether in the ninth inning by the Senators gave the Bees the opening contest, 4 to 1.

Neither Portland nor Seattle lost yesterday. They were traveling.

BIG COMPANIES INTERESTED IN GROVE LEASES

Shell and Commonwealth Have Men In Garden Grove, Buena Park

With representatives of the Shell Oil Company, Petroleum Development Company, General Petroleum Company and the Commonwealth Oil Company at work in efforts to secure leases on lands in the Bolsa, Garden Grove, Westminster and Buena Park sections, and owners of those districts are guessing these days as to whether they should sign up on a straight royalty lease or a royalty and cash lease per acre pending development of wells.

The fact that these companies are interested is taken as indication that they have faith in the probable development of a big oil field somewhere in a territory that is now unproven. They evidently are impressed with the conclusion of some oil men that the Standard Oil well on the Newport mesa demonstrated that that point is on the edge of a big oil basin. The basin may be north or south and east of that point, with activities of the present time indicating that the oil men believe the basin is north.

The territory, at least, is considered "wildcatting" propositions. Charles A. Eygabroad of Anaheim, who owns an orange grove of twenty acres north of Garden Grove, has been approached this week with an offer to lease his tract for oil development. He has seen a map drawn by an oil expert with a circle indicating the section in which he deems "wildcatting" worth while. Eygabroad's place is the exact center of the circle.

Eygabroad has refused to sign up because his orchard is in fine condition, with the trees rich in color and promising a big crop. He is not willing to let the promoters go on to the property and bore, with possible damage to his holdings and no probability of compensation unless oil is struck. He is demanding a cash consideration and a royalty.

It became known that O. S. Hickey, who has been interesting Garden Grove owners in leasing their lands for oil operations, is a representative of the Commonwealth Oil Company. This company, which is said to be a subsidiary of the Standard Oil, is supposed to have absorbed the Union Oil Company in a deal recently consummated.

The Shell Oil Company is a big concern, and its representatives, it is understood, are confining themselves mostly to the district around Buena Park.

The fact that the big companies are sitting up and taking notice of the prospective field, is also causing property owners to sit up and take notice of an opportunity that might result in a good many of them becoming "battered bondholders."

Tonight ranchers in the Garden Grove district will meet at Garden Grove to decide what they will do with reference to leasing their lands. Attorney H. C. Head will meet with them to advise them on legal matters and to prepare leases if they decide that they want to place their properties at the disposal of the companies for prospecting for oil.

IOWA PICNIC PLANS ARE ALL COMPLETED

The Iowa Association of Southern California announces plans are completed for the great annual picnic reunion and fleet review. The picnic will be held in Long Beach at Bixby Park, which is only one block from the ocean and on the high bluff overlooking it. It will be all day, Saturday, August 9, and the county headquarters and registers will be opened at 7 a. m. at the park so that all may have a long picnic time before the fleet comes in.

Baske dinners will be eaten at the noon hour, the program following before the fleet arrives in the afternoon. The president of the association, Judge Frederick W. Houser, will preside. City Commissioner W. M. Peek will voice the welcome and the responses will be by W. B. Brown for Southern California and by Walter Holloway for the northern part of the state.

Ellsworth Rominger, brother of J. A. Rominger, state senator, will be the orator of the day, telling of what Iowa has done in the war-work line the past two years. Rominger is still an Iowan and has had a large part in the doings of the state in these lines. Hawkeyes will come from every part of California as well as representing every section of the old home state.

GUARDSMEN HAVE GOOD TIME ENROUTE EAST

The Santa Ana members of the National Guard who made the state team for the national shoot of guardsmen at New York, are having a fine time on their way east, according to a card sent by Sergeant V. Fenley from Albuquerque.

"Just a line to let you know we made it o. k. around the washouts," writes Fenley to a member of the Register staff. "We were sent down through Phoenix on the S. P. and P., then out on the Southern Pacific main line.

"We have a Pullman car to ourselves. There are seventeen of us. We get the best of everything to be had and are having the time of our lives. It is sure a fine bunch of boys, with Major Mallett in charge. It will be a pleasant trip and one that the boys never will forget, with valuable instruction to all the members of the team. I hope to see Santa Ana represented on the team next year."

WOULD WALK THE FLOOR FOR HOURS

Williams Was Nervous From 20 Years Trouble—Wants World to Know About Tanlac

"Of all the medicines I have taken during the last twenty years, Tanlac is the only one that I have yet found that will do all they say it will do," said David Williams, who is employed as saw filer in one of the large mills in Seattle, and lives at 2114 East Columbia street, Seattle, the other day.

"When I commenced taking Tanlac," he continued, "it had been at least twenty years since I had been able to eat anything without suffering terribly afterwards. I was very careful about what I ate, but my stomach finally got in such bad condition that the very lightest kind of food would sour and cause me to be bloated up with gas for hours at a time. I would often have cramping spells after eating. I also suffered a great deal with rheumatism in my hands, and sometimes my fingers would be so cramped and drawn that I would have to stop work and rub them for a good while before I could hold my file well enough to go back to work. More than half the time I was not able to sleep on account of the pains in my hands and stomach, and would often have to walk the floor all night long. I finally got so rundown and worn out that I was hardly able to do any work at all."

"That was the condition I was in when I began taking Tanlac, but I want to say right here, that by the time I had finished my first bottle of this medicine, everything was very different with me. Why, Tanlac has so completely overcome my troubles that I can truthfully say that I am as well and hearty now as I ever was in my life. I have a good appetite, and I can eat and digest anything anybody else can. In fact, my stomach seems to be in first class condition. I don't have to stop my work and rub my fingers now, for the rheumatism has left me altogether. I work hard every day, and when I go to bed now I have no trouble getting eight or nine hours good, sound sleep every night. I can hardly realize the fact that I am a well, strong man again after all these years of suffering, and I am so happy over it all that I just want to talk about Tanlac all the time. I am glad to have the chance to publish my experience with Tanlac, for I just feel like I want the whole world to know what a wonderful medicine it is."

Tanlac is sold in Santa Ana by Rowley Drug Co., in Fullerton by G. W. Finch, in La Habra by R. H. Hilbert, in Huntington Beach by Dittmer's Mission Pharmacy, in Placentia by A. J. Robinson, in Tustin by Tustin Drug Co., in Brea by Brea Pharmacy, in Buena Park by Regal Drug Co., in Garden Grove by O. H. Anderson, and in Laguna Beach by Laguna Beach Pharmacy.—Adv.

ONE DEAD, 2 INJURED IN SEAPLANE SMASH

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 6.—S. E. DeVeise, electrician, is dead and Lieut. O. P. Kilmer, pilot, and W. C. Baker, photographer, are suffering from bruises and a bad shaking up as the result of an airplane smash on the bay here late last night. The men were returning from a picture expedition to the fleet. Lieutenant Kilmer was blinded by the flare of rockets and failed to right his machine in landing.

CYPRESS NEWS BRIEFS

CYPRESS, Aug. 6.—Mr. and Mrs. Will Musser and two boys, Raymond and Vernon, have gone on a trip to the Yosemite Valley. They expect to be away about two weeks. Their son and wife are taking care of their ranch while they are away.

A. R. Bradley entertained Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson from Los Angeles on Saturday night and Sunday.

In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Stoner drove by and stopped awhile. The Cypress people who went camping at Anaheim Landing this last week arrived in Cypress the last of the week. All had a most enjoyable week while there. The bathing was fine and all had plenty of fish.

While at the beach Henry Lucas' house was robbed last Friday night. A few articles of jewelry were taken and the thieves took a platter out of the cupboard and sat around the table and smoked, and put their ashes in the platter.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wertz and Mr. and Mrs. Bradley motored to Huntington Beach Sunday and around by Mrs. Hickman's of Bolsa, where a visit was enjoyed and watermelon served.

The Centralia and Cypress P. T. A. held their reception for the soldiers and sailors of the vicinity. There were about two hundred present, and everybody enjoyed Mr. Knox's program. There were lots of cakes and ice-cold punch served free, and there were cakes left to auction off, which brought in quite a sum for the P. T. A. The proceeds over the expenses were turned over to the two P. T. A.'s. The hall was beautifully decorated with flags, flowers and ferns.

Mr. and Mrs. Cuthbert Miller motored to Long Beach Sunday and brought home Mrs. Miller's sister, Grace, of Arizona. She had been visiting friends at Long Beach. They motored up to Buena Park to see their brother, Lawrence, Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George Miller and guests of Arizona, Mr. and Mrs. Monroe and Mr. and Mrs. Cherry of Santa Ana, took a fishing trip the last of the week to Aliso canyon.

Committee Anxious to See That Every Service Man Is Provided For

Have you adopted a service man or woman for the date of September 9, when the big home welcoming to them is to be held at Orange County Park? Those men and women offered their lives as a sacrifice, if need be, to preserve your home. The world war has brought the peoples of the allied nations closer together. The individual has a bigger heart.

There is no doubt, in each community, service men and women who have no family connections—who will have no little family group to join in the basket lunch at the park on the day on which all of Orange county will join in paying homage to the men and women who made many personal sacrifices.

Generally the laws of a state are such that it requires a great deal of red tape to legally adopt anyone, but all laws have been set aside for September 9th, and the population of each and every community is urged to look over its community carefully and find, if it can, some service man or woman who has no home or family and adopt him for that day. All those who have automobiles and means of reaching the park are urged to request to invite the families of service men or women in their immediate community to go with them and see that they get transportation to the park.

The Orange County War Service Recognition Committee is exceedingly desirous that no man or woman who has served his or her country, or the family of any service man or woman, shall be left at home on that day because of lack of transportation. "Let's make it the happiest, most joyous day ever known in the history of Orange county," said R. L. Bisby today. "The greatest amount of joy and happiness always comes to us when we are doing something for others. Let's all vie with one another to see who can do the most for one another on September 9th and let's make this meeting at Orange County Park one that we shall remember as long as we live, because it is on that day that the Orange County War Service Recognition Association will give to the returned service men and women a souvenir that they will cherish as long as they live."

METAL TRADES UNIONS WILL STRIKE FRIDAY

BUTTE, Mont., Aug. 5.—The executive board of the metal trades unions has called a strike of metal trades workers, effective Friday at noon.

Electricians, blacksmiths, boiler makers, machinists, sheet metal workers, plumbers and pipe fitters employed in the mines and smelters of Butte, Anaconda and Great Falls are affected by the order.

It is predicted the scheduled walkout will compel all mines and smelters of the state to suspend operations.

The decision to strike followed the refusal of the copper mining companies to grant the demands of the men for a daily wage of $8.

Thousands of yoo girls stationed at numerous naval offices throughout the United States lost their jobs August 1.

Justice Blames Increase In Failure to Provide Cases to Love of Show

"I have had more non-support cases before me during the past month than during any like period since I've been in office," Justice of the Peace Cox declared today.

Justice Cox ascribes the increasing number of complaints lodged against husbands for failure to provide to the effort of many families to "keep up appearances."

"Of course," said the Justice, "there are numbers of instances where the husband honestly tries his best to take care of his family, yet fails, but I believe that if people were no so anxious to keep pace with the Smiths, and Jones and Browns, fewer cases would be brought before me."

"The increased cost of living may have something to do with it, but the lure of fine clothes and a 'good time' are chiefly responsible," said Justice Cox.

"Whenever I find that a husband is doing his level best to do the right thing, I give him a chance to make good."

A. N. Rhodes, who in a complaint sworn to by Eva Walton, is charged with non-support of his seven minor children, was before Justice Cox today for his preliminary hearing. Clyde Banfield, the complainant against whom was sworn to by Emma Anderson, and who is charged with failure to support his three minor children, also had a hearing before Justice Cox.

COURTHOUSE NOTES

With John A. Harvey as his attorney Fred J. Krohn has filed suit for divorce against Ruby F. Krohn.

G. H. Dow has sworn to a complaint against R. W. Stilgenbauer, charging the latter with driving an automobile in a careless and reckless manner. The reckless driving of which Stilgenbauer is accused occurred, according to the complaint, on July 13, on the boulevard between Santa Ana and Huntington Beach.

At the District Attorney's office Dave stated that he was driving a truck on the day in question and that he was run into a ditch by Stilgenbauer.

The preliminary hearing of G. W. Smith, who in a complaint sworn to by Pearl E. Smith is charged with non-support of his two minor children, will be held in Justice Cox's court tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

CORNER AT SIXTH BROADWAY, IS SOLD TODAY

A $20,000 building at the corner of Sixth and Broadway, the location of the Trickey Supply station, will be under way in a few weeks as the result of the sale of the property today by the W. H. Spurgeon Realty company to John M. Connelly of Long Beach. The building will be a garage for Chas. L. Davis, local Chandler dealer.

The sale transfers property that has been in possession of the Spurgeon family since the founding of the city. It is in close proximity to the tourist hotel to be erected on the Bailey property, and which no doubt will be under construction within a very short time. Plans are rapidly maturing where building work on the hotel may be commenced.

The lot has a frontage of 150 feet on Broadway and 125 feet on Sixth street. The Davis garage will be 100x125 feet, and will be of modern construction. A glass front will be put across the full width of the building and plate glass for the show room will extend twenty-five feet back on the Sixth street side.

A building on the corner for Davis has long been under consideration and the matter has been hanging fire for six months or more. The deal finally was completed today. Plans for the building, which are tentative at this time, will provide for a handsome structure and a garage of a character that will be in full keeping with the developments that are in store for that immediate locality.

Donnelly is a man of wealth and has made the investment here, confident that there is a great future for the city and that property prices have not yet attained their maximum.

220 W. FOURTH GLADSOME PLACE OPEN TODAY

Congratulations and Bouquets In Large Numbers Received at Seidel's Market

Two-hundred West Fourth street was a gladsome place today, marking the opening of Henry Seidel's handsome new market. Bearing the congratulations and good wishes of a large number of personal friends and business firms of Santa Ana and many Southern California cities, came over two dozen beautiful bouquets and baskets of flowers. These were tastefully arranged about the handsome new show-cases, making a very pretty effect.

One of the large baskets, a sort of centerpiece for the decorations, was from the Anaheim Beef and Provision Company, and other wholesale firms were well represented. The Fourth Street Market and the Elks also were represented with very pretty baskets, and a beautiful fern was the gift of James' Confectionery. There were over two dozen baskets and bouquets all told, and the effect was most pleasing.

The place was thronged all day, everybody admired the arrangement and appointments of the place, and Proprietor Seidel, the pioneer market man in Santa Ana, was busy shaking hands and receiving the congratulations of his many friends. He had been up the last two nights moving to the new shop and getting everything in readiness for the opening.

Mrs. Bulkeley, who will have charge of the delicatessen counter, presented the lady visitors with carnations and market bags on behalf of the market. Seidel is assisted in the conduct of the new place by his brother, Frank Seidel, Shirm Bulkeley, Marion Hindle, who has been with him five years; Clifton Quisel and Angus Reinders.

P. S. Lucas was in charge of the U. S. Coffee Stores stand in the market, assisted by H. C. McCreery, the general manager, from Los Angeles, with a high quality of product on display, and Frank Pyun was getting his sanitary new fruit and vegetable stand stocked up this morning.

The entire establishment is one to be proud of, and the large attendance at the opening today shows that the enterprise which made it possible is appreciated by the people of Santa Ana and vicinity.

STOCKYARD WORKERS SEEK WAGE INCREASE

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—The first battle for a wage increase for 80,000 stockyard workers employed in the score or more packing houses here was to be urged today.

Yesterday representatives of the Packingtown employees told packers they wanted a 20 to 50 per cent increase in wages, but demanded at the same time that meat prices not be raised to provide revenue to meet the wage demands.

Voting was under way today to decide whether they will strike to force their demands in case of refusal on the part of the packing houses to grant them at once.

PREPARING CALL FOR NEWPORT HARBOR BIDS

The Orange County Harbor Commissioners, meeting today, instructed Leeds and Barnard, harbor engineers, of Los Angeles, to prepare a call for bids for diverting the Santa Ana river from Newport Bay into the ocean, the extension of the jetty at the mouth of Newport Bay and the construction of the dam at Bitter Point.

The $500,000 harbor bonds are being printed. Several minor matters objected to by the San Francisco bond firm have been cleared up and, so far as can be determined by the Harbor Commissioners, the firm will take the bond issue.

But the pastor, Rev. Father Henry Emmelen, becoming dissatisfied over the high school proposition, made a trip to San Francisco, to see Rev. Mother Bernard, head of the St. Joseph's Sisters, with the result that all high school branches will be included in the new department.

The school will have the latest equipment both for the regular high school work as well as for the commercial, some of the typewriters, comptometers and other machines having already arrived.

There will be four additional teachers this year, making eight in all. Four of them are music teachers, also.

Tobacco Hardens the Arteries, Overtaxes the Heart and Shortens Life

Says Dr. Connor, Who Suggests a Simple Test to Find If It Is Hurting You. Can You Stand It?

New York.—Dr. Connor, formerly of Johns Hopkins hospital, says: Hundreds of thousands of men who smoke and chew and who believe themselves healthy are suffering from progressive organic ailments. They would never have been afflicted had it not been for the use of tobacco and most of them would soon get well if they would only stop the use of tobacco.

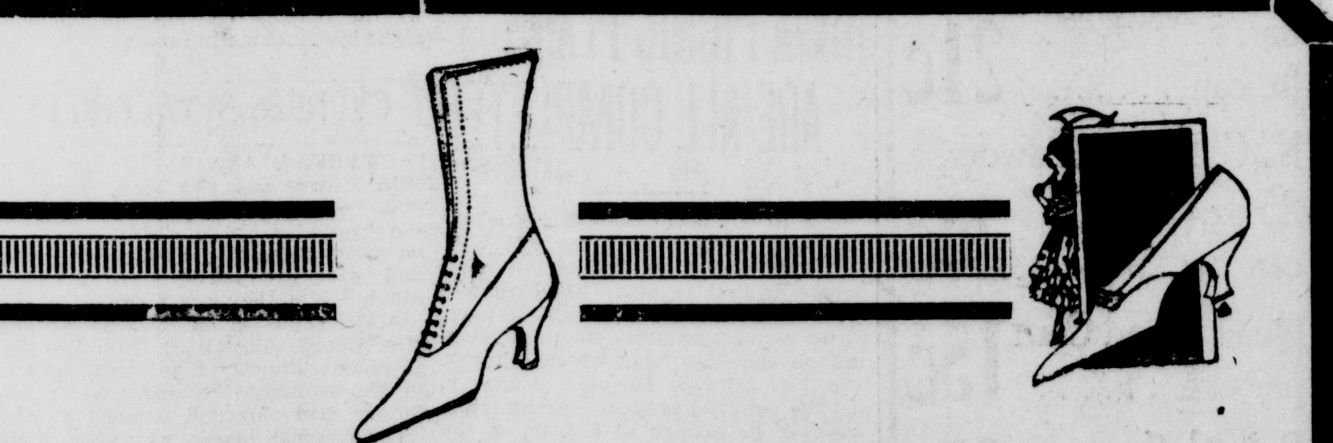

The best known habit forming principle of tobacco is nicotine, but the most deadly and demoralizing is tar. Both are deadly poisons, which, when absorbed by the system slowly, but surely, affect the nerves, membranes, tissues, vital organs and vitality of the body.

The harmful effect of tobacco varies and depends on circumstances and the individual. In some it causes general debility, others catarrh of the throat, indigestion, constipation, extreme nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of memory, lack of will power, cowardice and fear, mental confusion, etc.; in others it causes heart disease, bronchial troubles, hardening of the arteries, palpitation of the heart, tuberculosis, blindness, cancer and the common affliction known as tobacco heart.

If you use tobacco in any form you easily detect its harmful effects by making the following simple tests: Read aloud a full page from a book. If your voice becomes muffled, hoarse, and indistinct and you must frequently clear your throat, the chances are that your throat is affected by catarrh and it may be the beginning of very serious catarrhal trouble. Next, in the morning, before taking your usual smoke, walk up three flights of stairs at a regular pace, then stop. If you find that you are out of breath, if your heart beat is forced, trembling or irregular, you may be the victim of a functional or organic heart trouble. If you feel that you must smoke or chew to quiet your nerves, you are a slave to the tobacco habit and are slowly poisoning yourself with the insidious deadly drugs, nicotine and tar. In either case, you have just two alternatives—keep on with your self-poisoning process regardless of the dangers, and suffer the consequences, or rid yourself of the habit and escape the dangers.

You can overcome the craving and stop the tobacco habit in a very short time by using the following inexpensive formula. Go to any drug store and ask for Nicotol. Take one tablet after each meal and in a comparatively short time you will have no desire for tobacco. The craving will have left you. With the nicotine poison out of your system your general health will quickly improve.

Note: When asked about Nicotol, one of our leading druggists said: Nicotol is truly a wonderful remedy for the tobacco habit. It is way ahead of anything we have ever sold before. We are authorized by the manufacturers to refund the money to every dissatisfied customer and we would not permit the use of our name unless the remedy possessed unusual merit. Nicotol is sold in this city under an old-clad money-back guarantee by all up-to-date druggists, including Rowley.

WILL TEST COWS FOR IMPROVING PRODUCTION AND HERDS

Experience of Associations Shows Some Remarkable Results, Claimed

With a number of Orange county dairymen entering into an association by which their herds will be tested to determine whether or not they are boarders or profitable cows, there can be no question but what Orange county dairies are going to show a decided interest toward the improvement of their herds.

Cow testing is essentially a practical thing. It is not a wild theory. It is a plain case of bookkeeping. A cow produces exactly so much per year. It costs exactly so much per year to keep her. It is mighty easy to see whether or not she is paying her way, and if she is not, by all means she ought to be replaced with a cow that does pay.

The improvement of a herd is something that should never be out of the dairyman's mind.

A good cow testing association will take the guess work out of dairying, and that is the kind of an association the Orange county dairymen have entered into.

The result of a cow-testing association in an eastern community was summed up in the following comment:

"When I go out of the cow-testing association, I am going out of dairying." "The cow I thought was my best turned out to be the poorest in the herd." "By keeping fewer and better cows I have reduced the expenses and increased the income." "My balanced ration alone is worth enough to pay for all the association has cost me." "The cow-testing association has been worth a thousand dollars to me." "I was over at Henry Smith's farm the other day. Henry is very proud of his small herd of registered Guernseys. He talked pedigree and blood lines as though he had been in the business thirty years. Why, a year ago Henry didn't know a Guernsey from a Jersey!"

One member of that cow-testing association feeds the young calves whole milk from the lowest-testing cows and sends all the milk of the high testers to the creamery. He reports that the calves do fully as well on the low-testing milk and that the butterfat saved more than pays all expenses connected with the testing.

As soon as the cow-testing association proves that a cow is unprofitable she is disposed of and a better cow is purchased to take her place. One farmer at Grove City, Pa., found that nine of his eleven cows were unprofitable. He immediately sent all nine to the block and began buying better ones to take their places. No one considers going out of the business. Everywhere "improvement" is the watchword.

The Grove City Cow-Testing Association records for 1917 and 1918 show that it cost an average of $74 per cow to feed the 262 cows that completed a year's test—about $50 to feed the lowest producers, and $97 to feed the cows whose average production was 400 pounds or more of butterfat a year. The eleven cows that averaged 400 pounds of butterfat a year had an income of $128 over cost of feed, while the fifteen cows that averaged 100 pounds a year had an income of about $5 over cost of feed. One cow,

Broader Work Planned By Hecke In New Department Means Much to Farmers

(By G. H. Hecke, Director of the California State Department of Agriculture)

The advent of the new California State Department of Agriculture marks the beginning of a new era in the progress of the State, in that it will receive the benefit of co-ordinated effort along the different lines of activity and will be able more successfully to profit by the experiences of the past. The two main branches of the new department will be devoted to the promotion of activities along lines of plant industry and animal industry. The tentative scheme of procedure which will be followed by the Division of Plant Industry will consist of a more elaborate exposition of the policies heretofore pursued under the old State Horticultural Commission.

It was no small task for Governor Stephens to select from the many valuable state institutions those which should be brought together in the formation of the new department of agriculture. It required a careful analysis of the purposes for which each department was created and a great knowledge of the working organization needed to achieve that purpose.

The fresh fruit standardization laws of 1917 have been remodeled, based on the experience of the past two years' work. In addition, standardization now applies to dried fruits, vegetables and nuts. Potato seed certification, so long strongly urged by the potato growers of California, has been provided.

The continued growth of agricultural and horticultural industries showed the attendant need for increased efficiency in plant pest control and protection. Under the new regime, standardization will be placed upon a firmer basis, affecting all fruits and vegetables and all sections impartially. As a direct outcome of these wise measures, the shipment of green, immature, inedible fruit and vegetables will be further prevented by the placing of quality restrictions upon such shipments.

Quarantine Service
The quarantine service of the commission, in operation at the several maritime ports of entry upon the California coast line, will continue to put into execution all the provisions of the state quarantine law and those of all quarantine orders to be issued by the director of the California State Department of Agriculture.

Among the destructive pests which to date have been excluded from our

Skill In Culling Out Poor Layers Pays Flock Owners

"Skillful Culling Pays Big Dividends" is the subject of a paper by J. E. Dougherty of the State University Farm. The paper reads as follows:

Every poultry raiser fully understands that intelligent culling of the unprofitable layers will increase the average productiveness of the flock and increase the profits. But are you putting that knowledge into practice? Are you reaping the financial benefits of intelligent culling?

1. Between July 1st and October 1st is one of the best times to cull laying flocks. The sooner the better. Culling slacker hens saves feed.
2. A good layer should (1) be active; (2) be a good rustler; (3) have a well-developed comb for that particular breed; (4) measure three fingers (2 1/2") or more from rear end of keel bone to ends of pubic or lay bones; (5) have pubic bones that are fairly straight and rather thin for the age of the fowl; (6) have pubic bones that are about the thickness of two fingers apart during laying season; (7) have a rather full but soft and flexible abdomen and large, dilated vent during laying period; (8) have pale beak and shanks at end of laying season; (9) be of good size for the breed and well-proportioned; (10) molt late in fall.

Health Is Necessary
3. A hen must have a healthy, vigorous body to be able to lay heavily. Fowls with weak constitutions cannot "stand up" under the strain of heavy egg production.

4. A well-developed comb of good color, short, strong beak, blocky head, bright eye, well-proportioned body and clean-cut action are indications of a vigorous fowl.

5. The size of the comb, in relation to the normal size of comb for that breed, is correlated with a hen's egg-laying ability so that the size of the comb is one indication of ability to lay. The larger the comb the better layer the hen should be, other points being equal. Abnormally large combs, however, are not desirable.

6. The better the layer the later she should molt. The molting of a fowl before September 1st is an indication of a rather poor layer.

7. Pubic bones should be thin, fairly straight, somewhat flexible in a pullet, but will tend to get thicker on ends and more rigid as the hen gets older. Those hens, the ends of whose pubic bones thicken very slowly and so remain relatively thin from year to year should be better layers than hens whose pubic bones thicken rapidly on the ends, other points being equal. Therefore the relative straightness of the pubic bones and the relative thinness of the ends of these bones are valuable indications of egg-laying capacity.

Other Pointers
8. The distance between rear end of keel bone and ends of pubic bones is a measurement of abdominal capacity. Hens measuring less than the thickness of three fingers (2 1/2") between these points are usually culled as shown by other indications. Laying hens need good sized abdomens in which to manufacture a good yield of eggs per year.

9. During laying period, the distance between pubic bones increases to the thickness of two fingers or better to allow of free passage of egg. When laying stops, ends of pubic bones may come closer together again.

10. In laying period abdomen becomes fuller and vent more dilated, due to stretching of the abdominal tissues to allow for the increase in size of the egg organs while actively functioning. The abdomen should, however, remain flexible to the touch. The accumulation of excess fat in abdomen crowds egg organs, interferes with and checks production and is indicated by abdomen losing its flexibility and becoming hard to the touch.

11. A hen in good laying condition should be in good flesh, but not over-fat, as shown by a hard abdomen and a too plump breast.

12. In yellow shanked varieties like Leghorn, Ancona, Plymouth Rock, Rhode Island Red and Wyandotte, good layers "lay out" the yellow color in beak, earlobes, vent and shanks as laying season goes on, so that the comparative shades of yellow of these parts in different fowls after July 1st is an excellent indication of the egg-laying performance of those fowls. Pale shanks and beaks after July 1st indicate good layers, whereas bright yellow shanks and beaks indicate culled.

Color Comparisons

The amount of yellow corn, kind and abundance of green stuff, etc., fed may affect rate of "laying out" of yellow color in different flocks because such foods contain considerable yellow pigment. For the reason color comparisons should be made of individuals in same flock and fed in same way and not between birds in different flocks and fed differently.

For full details on Yellow Color as an indicator of egg-laying ability get a copy of California Experiment Station Circular 197, from the Farm Advisor.

13. The more different indications that are used in culling poor layers and selecting extra good layers the more accurate the work will be. Experience should soon enable one to cull laying flocks with surprising accuracy.

Are you getting that experience? Remember that skillful culling pays big dividends.

BOARD FARMERS ALL IN FAVOR OF SECURING DRAINAGE

Committee Appointed, Is to Meet at Farm Advisor's
Office Wednesday

The farmers of the Buena section are decidedly in favor of the establishment of a drainage district. Every property owner who attended the meeting at the Garden Grove school-house last week and who has since been interviewed, has declared himself strongly for the plan of establishing drainage ditches for the purpose of lowering the water table which is now affecting trees and other crops.

There has been some discussion as to whether drainage by an open ditch system or by tiling shall be used.

The meeting of the farmers was called to order by the farm advisor, who explained the value of drainage in saturated soils and outlined results that have been obtained by older drainage districts in the state. He reviewed the progressive work that drainage committees of Garden Grove and Buena Park were undertaking through the co-operation of the farm bureau.

R. E. Stillens was elected temporary chairman of the meeting and C. A. Westgate secretary. Both recited experiences of benefits of drainage in the East. Others who spoke strongly in favor of organizing a district were E. E. Lunsford, B. T. Crutchfield, S. H. Teal, J. H. Hoff and L. E. Carr.

Attorney H. C. Head outlined the legal phases involved in organizing a drainage district. Head pointed out two acts under which organization may be effected, the old law assessing property on a flat rate per acre, the new law providing assessments according to benefits derived.

A committee was appointed to take preliminary steps to set boundaries for the district, draw up a petition and engage an attorney and engineer for the project. L. E. Carr, B. E. Crutchfield and S. H. Teal were named on this committee. They will meet at the farm advisor's office Wednesday to get matters under way.

SPRAY FOR TOMATO LEAF BLIGHT GOOD

Spraying improves color and solidity of tomatoes, reduces rot and sunscald, and increases the yield of ripe fruit 39 per cent, and of both green and ripe fruit 55 per cent.

A small knapsack compressed-air sprayer may be used in this work. Such sprayers are light, easy to operate, and produce a fine misty spray. Several different kinds, varying somewhat in shape and construction, but built on the compressed-air principle, are now offered for sale.

A good spray formula is 5-5-3-50 Bordeaux soap mixture, composed of 5 pounds copper sulphate, 5 pounds stone lime, 3 pounds resin, fish oil soap, and 50 gallons of water.

To reduce the work of preparing spray mixtures the following stock solutions were made: Five pounds of copper sulphate (blue stone) were dissolved by suspending it in a wooden vessel containing 5 gallons of water. Copper sulphate corrodes iron and tin. Five pounds of stone lime (quicklime) were slacked in another vessel by slowly adding water at first and later increasing the volume to 5 gallons.

Three pounds of resin fish oil soap were diluted in a third vessel by stirring it in hot water until thin and increasing the volume to 5 gallons by adding water of ordinary temperature. (News Letter, U. S. Department of Agriculture.)

LET PIGS WEAN THEMSELVES, IS BEST PLAN

At the conference of swine extension workers of United States Department of Agriculture, held recently in Washington, the question of weaning pigs arose. The discussion brought out the fact that in some parts of the country farmers followed the practice of weaning their pigs at most all ages from five weeks up. The conclusions reached were that for best results pigs should be allowed to nurse the sow for at least ten weeks where it is possible to do so. It was decided that it would be still better to allow the pigs to wean themselves. A good suckling sow properly fed should be in a good flow of milk up to the time the pigs are at least ten weeks of age. Without question, the mother's milk is the best feed possible to obtain for young pigs. Consequently hog growers should take advantage of this natural feed to the greatest extent possible.

VITAL CONCERN OF FRUIT MEN CENTERED IN BUDWOOD

Buyers of Nursery Stock
Should Make Careful Inquiry Into Sources

Cutting budwood from non-bearing trees is the prime cause of short and unprofitable crops in many California orchards. The time has passed when the prospective planter of fruit or nut trees will, if he is wise, buy without question the stock offered him by the growers of nursery trees.

While it is true that pruning, pollination and correct orchard practice have their effect upon the bearing qualities of most orchard trees, it is still true that the cutting of buds from trees that seldom bear even a fair crop is the prime cause for short crops of fruit.

It is easy to understand why there are so many non-bearing trees when we remember that in the early days of fruit growing there were few trees of bearing age and buds were cut from the vigorous growth of the newly planted trees, a practice that not only perpetuated the non-bearing quality of a great many trees, but very often was the cause of a mixture of varieties.

Because of the great expense of planting and bringing into bearing a grove of orange trees, the growers of oranges were the first to awaken to the great losses that they had suffered by the cutting of budwood from non-bearing trees and are now very much alive to the importance of knowing for sure that the trees they plant are the progeny of trees that bear profitable crops.

Growers of other fruits are slowly learning how important bud selection is and want to be shown, before they plant, where the buds came from. The habit that nurserymen once had of taking long chances on varieties was bad enough, but not to be compared to the perpetuation of the very poorest trees, from the standpoint of fruitage. Fortunately for the fruit industry, our more progressive nurserymen have awakened to the great importance of raising trees that will bear fruit, not only as a progressive step in the upbuilding of their business, but as a matter of justice between men, and with the great importance of bud selection to the future prosperity of fruit growing and, to California as the leading fruit producing state, it would seem to be good business for growers and nurserymen to co-operate as far as may be to the end that all future plantings will be of trees that have the best possible foundation for fruit bearing.

The budding season is now on, and also the crops now on the trees, with the exception perhaps of cherries and apricots, will constitute the best possible guide—for the grower who contemplates planting trees as well as to the nurseryman whose business it is to grow them—to the trees that in points of vigor and fruit bearing are a safe source for the future orchards of California.

NEW WHEAT TRIED OUT, HAS PROVEN ITS VALUE

A report from Wenatchee, Wash., says that as the results of experiments at the Washington State College experiment dry land wheat farm near Waterville, a new variety of wheat may be introduced into the semi-arid sections of Central Washington.

This is known as the hard federation, a milling wheat of the highest type, developed and grown on the dry lands of the interior of Australia. During this, the driest season for many years, this variety has made the best growth and shown the greatest hardiness of any of the 27 kinds of wheat tried out.

The Waterville experiment farm consists of 215 acres, conducted by C. E. Hill for the Washington State College.

STOP SUMMER ROT

The summer rot of potatoes, which so many gardeners complain of, causes much needless loss. Potatoes should be dug as soon as the vines turn brown. It is not necessary to wait for them to die. As soon as dug store them in a cool, dry place and cover with straw, dry grass or burlap. Covering prevents the potato moth from getting in.

PRODUCERS ARE TO MEET HERE FOR ADDRESS AUGUST 13

Man With Wide Experience and Unusual Success Is Coming

A man who has had many years of experience in marketing of California products and whose attitude upon the marketing question is one that has been brought about by the exercise of keen business judgment is scheduled to be in Santa Ana on Wednesday, August 13, for the purpose of delivering an address to the citrus growers, walnut growers, egg producers, bean, sugar beet growers and all other farmers and orchardists of the county.

"Marketing Problems of California Farm Products, Past, Present and Future," is the subject to be dealt with and the speaker is to be C. C. Teague of Santa Paula, manager of the famous Limoneira ranch, president of the California Walnut Growers' Association, closely identified with a number of the state's leading industries.

Teague is an able business man. He is coming to discuss a subject that is of vital interest to every producer in Orange county.

Men who have been following the histories of the various industries in which the people of this county are interested declare that the marketing problem is today more important than ever before. It is a subject upon which every man ought to inform himself. Teague is a man with a vast fund of information at his tongue's end, and the meeting is bound to be of great importance and interest.

The meeting is to be held at the Temple Theater at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening of next week.

Teague's Success

Teague was born in the state of Maine and migrated west to Kansas with his parents in the eighties, but about the time he became of age the lure of God's Country brought him to California, and he located in Santa Paula, starting his career there as a farm hand. By constantly striving through his first-hand information to develop better methods of farm management he soon gained recognition by the owners of the Limoneira company, which was then developing a young lemon orchard of 300 acres, and through the able way in which he handled all of the tasks entrusted to him he soon gained the recognition of the owners of the Limoneira company as a man capable of handling their larger affairs. Before many years he was made the manager of what he has developed into the largest lemon orchard in the world.

Early in his career, Teague recognized the fact that there was always a demand for the best in any line and that the most money was to be made in producing goods of the highest quality. His faith in quality production has never wavered, with the result that for many years the famous Limoneira lemons have always commanded the top of the market. Thus through the many, many years of ups and downs in the lemon game, the famous property which Mr. Teague manages has never failed to make a handsome profit for its shareholders, and beans and grain where the aphids were taking their annual toll.

Department, Outlines Some

As an example of the practical educational work being conducted by the insectary division, an agricultural pest survey of the entire state is being conducted which will be of great value in the future in preventing the spread of pests to uninfested areas. The areas involved by sixteen of the most important insect pests, together with eighteen species of ground squirrels, have now been mapped, and greater advice, including plant diseases and weeds, may be expected within the next few years.

Controlling Rodents

In cooperation with the United States Bureau of Biological Survey and the County Horticultural commissioners, great successes have followed the work in rodent control, notwithstanding the limited force which it was possible to put into the field. The methods followed in this work are the most carefully planned and systematic, and little remedial work is attempted except as a result of a systematic survey to determine the quickest and most effective means of procedure.

Good constructive work along all lines of agricultural procedure inevitably will result from the co-ordinated interest of the many branches which are now comprehended by the enlarged scope of the new department. While it is true that a great deal was accomplished under the Commission of Horticulture, the possibilities for the future are unlimited. The creation of the Department of Agriculture can only make for greater success and progress, and, given the opportunity making for co-operation, it would appear that success, involved by these manifold duties, will be assured in part at least in the near future.

Animal Industry

No less arduous than the duties of the Division of Plant Industry and of a many-sided nature will be the problems confronting the new Division of Animal Industry, with J. P. Iverson as chief of the division. Much time has been devoted to the eradication of sheep scab and the Texas fever tick, in addition to the investigation of other animal diseases.

Inspections have been made on practically all sheep in the state, and those found exposed to the disease or infected have been dipped. Since July, 1918, to and inclusive of June 29, 1919,
1,575,394 sheep were inspected and 575,915 dipped.

During the progress of the sheep work the inspectors also gave their time and attention when necessary, to investigations of outbreaks of contagious and infectious diseases of livestock as well as testing cows for tuberculosis under the provisions of the state dairy law (chapter 576, 1917).
Since September, 1918, when the Texas fever tick made its re-appearance in the San Joaquin valley, much attention has been given to this work.
One inspector devotes his entire time to making inspections and supervising and conducting dippings of infested and exposed cattle in this territory, and the owners of such cattle have co-operated with us in a commendable manner. Here again the boards of supervisors of counties where the infestation exists have rendered very valuable assistance by providing county-line riders and constructing dipping pens. Since September, 1918, to and inclusive of June, 1919, inspections have been made of 67,770 head of cattle and 2,534 underwent dippings for Texas fever tick.

Emergency Work

Every year, from about July to November, a great deal of emergency work is done in the control of anthrax by way of assisting livestock owners and veterinarians in rendering aid, proper diagnosis and conducting vaccination and also by insisting upon proper sanitary measures being taken in all instances. No virulent outbreaks of this disease have occurred during the past year. Glanders is practically eradicated in California. This has been accomplished by requiring all affected animals to be immediately destroyed, testing and examination of all contacts to determine which are affected, and insisting upon the destruction of all reactors, as well as proper disinfection of the infected premises.

Hog cholera is a problem with which one has to deal throughout the year, and outbreaks of this disease have occurred in nearly every district of the state. However, in most instances they were checked immediately by the proper use of anti-hog cholera serum and virus. Upon information of such outbreaks inspectors are at once detailed to investigate and advise with owners concerning vaccination and sanitary precautions.

Dairy Tuberculosis

With reference to the work conducted under the provisions of the pure milk law (chapter 576, 1917), from July, 1918, to June, 1919, 60,271 head of dairy cows were tested for tuberculosis by representatives of this office. The provisions of the dairy law require that this office examine and test all cows from which raw dairy products are sold. In addition to improving the milk supply the information thus obtained furnishes accurate data as to the extent of tuberculosis in California, which, of course, is valuable in its control.

Numerous sporadic outbreaks of other diseases, among which might be mentioned blackleg, swine plague, verminous bronchitis, hemorrhagic sep-ticemia, necrotic enteritis, forage poisoning, contagious abortion, pneumonia, rabies, etc., have received attention during the past year.

Included as part of the new Division of Animal Industry will be found two important branches, the cattle protection board and the dairy division.
1. The cattle protection board is therefore, that produced 400 pounds of butterfat a year produced more income over cost of feed than twenty-five cows of the other class. These results indicate that the owners of well-bred and well-fed cows may derive pleasure as well as much profit from dairying.

The cow that produced 290 pounds of butterfat a year returned $157 for each dollar spent for feed, while the cow that produced 400 pounds of butterfat a year returned $243 for each dollar spent for feed. It cost more to feed the cow that produced 400 pounds of butterfat, but for every dollar spent for feed she returned 86 cents more than the average cow of the other group. She produced a pound of butterfat in return for 23 cents' worth of feed to produce a pound of butterfat.

Of the cows that were on test twelve months those that freshened in April, May, June and July, had an average income of $45 over cost of feed, while those that freshened at other times had an average income of $80 over cost of feed. There were nine cows whose owners did not know the dates of freshening. These nine cows had an average income of $7.82 over cost of feed.

The low income over cost of feed may not have been due to lack of records, but it seems something more than a coincidence that the dairymen who did not keep records were the owners of poor cows.

E. S. Lewis, who is employed to test the cows that are signed up in the association in which Orange county dairies have about 500 cows, commended his work this week. In the course of two weeks he will have visited every member of the association.
Indications are now that after the work is started a number of other dairies will join the department. Already many inquiries have been received concerning the work. There are enough dairies in Orange county to support two cow-testing associations.
The Farm Bureau will no doubt have enough cows signed up for an independent association aside from the Los Angeles dairies.

TUSTIN NEWS BRIEFS

TUSTIN, Aug. 6.—The fifteen acre ranch owned by Mrs. Julietta Smith on North Prospect avenue was purchased this week by Frank Arundell.
Mr. Arundell's present home is on Third and Pacific and as soon as it is disposed of he will move with his family to the ranch.

The Presbyterian Berean Bible class will hold its regular monthly social and business meeting Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Boal at the Staley residence on Glen avenue.

Seven Tustin boys have organized a radio club. Equipment has been ordered and will be installed at the home of Clarence Bowman.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Burge and family accompanied by Miss Grace Hight motored to San Diego today to see the Pacific fleet.

Miss Helen Millar, of Pacific Beach, who has been visiting Miss Lillian Martin, left Tuesday for Los Angeles, where she will meet her father and mother, Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Millar.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Crawford and family will visit Los Angeles on Sunday to witness motion picture review and rodeo at Exposition Park in honor of the Pacific fleet.

Mrs. E. H. Hess and little daughter Virginia, of Los Angeles, were guests of Mrs. Chas. Willard and family at the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Lou Allen and family left today for a two weeks' vacation at Forest Home.

Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Preble, Misses Anita and Irene Preble and Ralph Eells joined Los Angeles and An-aheim friends on a trip to Anaheim landing last Saturday and Sunday.

besides paying most satisfactory dividends, the stock in the Limoneira company, which cost the original owners about fifty dollars a share, now sells freely at several hundred dollars—certainly a tribute to able management.

In 1905 Mr. Teague purchased two hundred acres of land east of Santa Paula of a rolling, rocky character, and all the old-timers said he was stung pretty badly. It cost him as much as $500 an acre to clear and level some of this barren waste. He not only made a spear of grass grow where none had grown before, but on that property is now located one of the finest lemon orchards in California.

Teague is now interested in several other large California farming propositions, every one of which has proved a huge success. He never starts anything he can't finish.

Teague had a good deal to do with the organization of the lima bean interests of California.

While the products produced on the holdings in which Mr. Teague is interested are all of such unusually fine quality that it would be possible for him to sell them direct to the trade at prices at least equal to those obtained through the co-operative associations and at probably a considerable saving in selling cost, still he has consistently placed the handling of every crop in which he is interested in the hands of the various co-operative associations of California.

Teague's experience with marketing through the associations, his grasp of their methods and their plans for the future will no doubt be drawn upon for his address here.

MRS. BONNIE SLATER, WINTERSBURG, DEAD

WINTERSBURG AND SMELTZER, Aug. 6.—The entire community was shocked on Tuesday morning by the sudden death of Mrs.
Bonnie Slater, wife of Wm. F. Slater of Wintersburg, at 3:15 a. m.

Mrs. Slater was taken suddenly ill Monday morning with what was thought to be acute indigestion. Her condition at once appeared serious and her sister was called from Los Angeles and a nurse secured.

In the afternoon Mrs. Slater told her husband she was dying, but it had come on so suddenly that none fully realized the seriousness of her condition until in the night when she grew gradually worse until the end came.

She was conscious to the last and although speaking but few words on account of the severe pain, seemed to realize all, recognizing those who came to her bedside.

The community deeply grieves with the bereaved husband and three children in the loss of their loved one who was a general favorite in her home community and of all who knew her.

The funeral will be held at the Win-tersburg Methodist Church at 2:30 p. m. Thursday, with interment in the Huntington Beach cemetery.

California Beans To Bring Big Price Says Official at Stockton

STOCKTON, Cal., Aug. 6.—Bean growers of California are assured of good prices for their product, declared B. E. Jesse, assistant secretary of the California Bean Growers' Association.

"Every bean in California today will be sold at a good price and the entire 1919 crop will be contracted for early," said Jesse today, at the association's office here.

"We are getting from ten to fifteen communications every day at this office, indicating that the demand for California beans is in excess of the supply."

With reports that Michigan, Colorado and New Mexico will not produce over a 60 per cent crop, bean growers of California will have a bright year to look forward to.

Price of Eggs Is to Stay Up, Say Santa Ana Grocers

There is no possibility of eggs retailing for less than 60 cents per dozen for some months to come, in the opinion of Santa Ana grocers, and George A. Edgar, pioneer grocer, predicts that eggs will reach a dollar a dozen in November.

Scarcity of chickens was the reason assigned by Edgar for the prevailing prices.

"Hens are moulting now, and they will lay practically no eggs for a month or more," said Edgar today. "Hens are bringing as high as 26 cents a pound just now. When the hens don't lay for six or eight weeks and the people can get rid of them at from 24 to 26 cents a pound they do so."

"Chickens are scarce, and that is one of the principal reasons why eggs are selling at 60 cents a dozen. The high cost of poultry food during the past three or four years has caused people to dispose of their hens, with the result that fewer eggs are being produced than formerly."

"The demand far exceeds the supply, and, as in everything else, this brings up the price. I do not look for any reduction in egg prices, and I believe that they will be selling at a dollar a dozen in November."

Popularity of eggs as an article of diet easily prepared by people spending vacations at the beaches and in the hills is one of the reasons given by F. C. Blauer, well known Santa Ana grocer, for the present great demand.

"We are unable to secure enough eggs to supply our retail trade," said Blauer. "I keep one automobile delivery vehicle busy scouring the country for eggs, but even at that the demand exceeds the supply. There are hundreds of families away on vacations and these call upon us heavily for eggs, as they are easy to prepare and are highly nutritious. The insistence of this demand is one of the reasons why eggs are selling at 60 cents a dozen."

"I look for no decline in egg prices. Eggs are simply not being produced in their former quantities. Cold storage eggs will be placed on the market within a few months, but this will have no appreciable effect on the price of fresh eggs."

D. L. Anderson, another well known Santa Ana grocer, also attributed the prevailing price to the fact that fewer eggs are being produced than several years ago.

"We have been in business in Santa Ana for twenty-four years, and there was a time when we used to receive as high as forty or fifty crates of eggs a day. People in this section raised chickens then, poultry food was plentiful, and eggs were brought to Santa Ana. Now, owing largely to the high cost of poultry food, fewer chickens are being raised and many crates of eggs are being shipped to Los Angeles. We receive now only a few crates each day—just enough barely to supply our retail trade."

K. OF C. WILL CONDUCT FREE NIGHT SCHOOLS

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 6.—Comprehensive plans for the construction and maintenance of numerous free night schools, of which more than 2,000 Knights of Columbus councils will form the units, will be considered by the peace convention of the Knights here today.

The recommendation to the convention included practical and cultural courses, together with the engagement of expert professional management.

The convention will also take up the question of establishing recreation centers throughout the United States.

Plans will be formulated for the prosecution of a strenuous campaign against the spread of Bolshevism in this country. Several prominent members of the order were to make addresses on the subject.

Prominent men from all parts of the country were scheduled to speak before the convention today. Delegates were present from many of the larger cities.

BURNEY FALLS SOLD TO PRODUCE POWER

REDDING, Aug. 6.—J. H. Logan, of Oakland, has sold the Burney Falls to Scott McArthur of this city. The power will be concentrated for pumping water to the Fall River valley, twelve miles distance.

SUPERIORITY OF NEW BARLEY IS SHOWN

Mariout Grain In Experiments Is Hailed As a Wonderful Thing

Superiority of Mariout barley over common barley in yield per sack per acre, in resistant power to droughts, in suitability to spring planting, in absorption of soil moisture, in production of less straw and more grain, in resistance to strong winds, in earlier ripening, and in suitability to a system of double cropping is shown in a recent announcement of the University of California College of Agriculture on the results of experiments during 1919 with 3000 acres of Mariout barley within a radius of 20 miles of the University of California farm, Davis, the particular variety of the Mariout barley having been brought originally from Egypt and grown at the university farm for nine years.

Important facts about Mariout barley stated in the announcement are as follows:

"Mariout barley has outyielded common barley in seven out of the nine years it has been grown at the university farm."

"In dry years Mariout has greatly outyielded common barley. In 1919 Mariout yielded 29.5 sacks per acre compared to 19 sacks for the common barley."

"Mariout is more drought resistant, is better suited to spring planting, uses less soil moisture and produces less straw and more grain than common barley."

"Mariout 'whips out' less than common barley during strong north winds at harvest season. In 1919 actual tests at the university farm showed that common barley lost three times as much grain during the strong wind of May 30, 31 and June 1, as Mariout barley."

"Mariout ripens two to three weeks earlier than common barley."

"It is specially suited to a system of double cropping because its earlier removal in the spring allows the land to be irrigated and fitted earlier for a summer crop such as beans or Gyp corn."

"Its defects are that it drowns out more than common barley on lowlands which are flooded during the growing season, and does not do well in the cold northern or mountainous districts."

"Mariout has decisively outyielded common barley at the following arid western experiment stations: Davis, Chico, Modocasin, Montana, Moro, Oregon, Aberdeen, and Idaho."

DROUTH CONDITIONS FORCE STOCK SALES

The farm advisor's office has received notice from the state leader's office that large numbers of cattle, horses and hogs are being forced to sell in the mountain states because of the shortage of feed. California farmers more fortunately situated may find this an opportunity to buy to advantage. The letter from Berkeley reads as follows:

"We have lately received a number of letters from various states in the west stating that certain sections are suffering from drought and consequently have a considerable amount of livestock that must be disposed of this summer and fall. Utah county, Utah, especially has inquired about a market for horses, feeder cattle, sheep and hogs. I take it that no one will be particularly interested in horses, but it may be that some ranches in California would be interested in securing cattle, sheep or hogs. If you have inquiry from any one looking for these classes of livestock it is possible that they might be secured in Utah at a price making it possible to transport them to California."

AIR MAIL, NEW YORK, SAN FRANCISCO, PLAN

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 6.—With the placing before congress of a plan and request of an airmail service between New York city and San Francisco, comes the hint from Edward McGrath, chairman of the postal censorship committee, who has been appointed in charge of aerial mail service, that Washington postal authorities have already had the plan under consideration.

McGrath, who has been conferring with state officials here and in Sacramento, says that he is not permitted to make public government plans on the proposed service, but that present considerations are for carrying mail by aeroplane to Green River, Wyoming, and then by fast overland train to this city.

A DISCOVERY THAT BENEFITS MANKIND

Two discoveries have added greatly to human welfare.

In 1835 Newton originated the vacuum process for condensing milk with cane sugar to a semi-liquid form.

In 1883 Horlick at Racine, Wis., discovered how to reduce milk to a dry powder form with extract of malted grains, without cane sugar.

This product HORLICK named Malted Milk. (Name since copied by others.) Its nutritive value, digestibility and ease of preparation (by simply stirring in water) and the fact that it keeps in any climate, has proved of much value to mankind as an ideal food-drink from infancy to old age.

How Nuxated Iron Helped Me To Whip Jess Willard And Win The World's Championship

JACK DEMPSEY
"TIGER OF THE RING" Tells a Secret of His Training—Recommends Nuxated Iron To Every Man and Woman Who Wants To Build Greater

Strength, Energy and Power

Today recognized as the physical superior to any living man—the Superman of the Age—Jack Dempsey, Heavyweight Champion of the world, explains below the part Nuxated Iron played in helping to prepare him for the supreme test of his career. In his decisive, smashing victory over the mighty Willard who had never before been knocked from his feet, Dempsey displayed a dynamic overwhelming strength and power never before known in the history of the ring. That he took Nuxated Iron as a part of his training is convincing evidence of the importance Dempsey attached to keeping his blood rich in strength-giving iron, and the high regard in which he holds Nuxated Iron as a master strength and blood builder.

In a statement made at his training quarters in Toledo, the scene of the big battle, Jack Dempsey said: "After commencing the use of Nuxated Iron during my training for the big fight with Jess Willard, I soon noticed that I could stand harder strains with less fatigue than before, and I realized that I had found a tonic and blood builder which played an important part in getting me into fine condition. Formerly I had relied solely upon strength-building foods and outdoor exercise to keep my blood rich in red corpuscles, but with the World's Championship at stake, I felt that I should leave nothing undone that might help me to win. I was advised of the great value of Nuxated Iron for building up the blood, strengthening the nerves and aiding in keeping the body fit, and I am firmly convinced that its use has helped to wonderfully increase my stamina and endurance. Nuxated Iron put added power behind my punch and helped me to accomplish what I did at Toledo. From the results in my own case, I believe that the use of Nuxated Iron is necessary, I feel that I am in a position to strongly recommend Nuxated Iron to every man and woman who wants to build greater strength, energy and power."

In connection with the foregoing statement made by Jack Dempsey, Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), New York, and the Westchester County Hospital, says: "The methods of training adopted by Willard and Dempsey may have had a great deal to do with the outcome of this fight, but strength and vitality of body and

William Harrison ("Jack") Dempsey—

Although like an untamed tiger in the ring, the intensely human side of the new World's Champion is clearly shown by a remark he is quoted as making just before the big fight, in which he said: "I have telegraphed my Mother that I will not going to disappoint her. I'm going to win that title if for no other reason than because I've promised her I would."

Dempsey describes here the part Nuxated Iron played in helping him to keep his promise to win the title.

mind are derived from the blood and the blood in turn derives it from the food we eat and the oxygen contained in the air we breathe. But unless the blood is rich in iron to increase its oxygen power, it cannot develop living tissue, muscle, and brain or keep active the vital forces. Strong, healthy men and women with plenty of iron in their blood are the ones who go through life with a smile, self-reliant and fearless and their dynamic power and energy make them virtually masters of their own destinies. It is surprising how many people who do not get along in life are in reality suffering from iron deficiency and do not know it. To supply this lack of iron and help build stronger, healthier men and women, better able physically to meet the problems of everyday life, I believe that physicians should, at every opportunity, prescribe organic iron—Nuxated Iron—for in my experience it is one of the best tonic and red blood builders known to medical science."

Manufacturers' Note: Nuxated Iron which has been used by Jack Dempsey and which is prescribed and recommended above by physicians is not a secret remedy but one which is well known to druggists everywhere. Unlike the older iron tonic products, it is easily assimilated and does not irritate the stomach. The manufacturers guarantee successful and easily satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money. It is dispensed by all good druggists.

Why We Offer a 20% Common Stock Bonus

THE high cost of living has just about cut the dollar in half. An investment in low interest bonds that five years ago produced a comfortable living income, now means comparative poverty. What is the bond investor to do? Obviously he must suffer inconvenience, go to work, or increase the returns from his principal.

Here is an opportunity to materially increase the income from investment, while at the same time ABSOLUTELY conserving the SAFETY of the principal. We are offering with a bonus of common stock equal to 20 percent of the bond purchase.

These Bonds are a first mortgage on a tract of the finest cotton land in Arizona. Absolute guarantee of interest on bonds is provided and not less than a 6 per cent dividend on common stock is assured. This makes a return of 8.2 per cent—practically double the usual bond return. This proposition is backed by men of the HIGHEST RESPONSIBILITY. Detailed information cannot be given here. Send the coupon for Circular. No obligation to purchase is entailed.

Own Your Own HOME

Aug. 1st, 1913, a citizen of Santa Ana borrowed $3,000.00 @ 7 per cent on a new residence, thinking that the debt would be paid off within a few years. Aug. 1st, 1919, he renewed the loan for the second time. In 6 years he has paid $1,260.00 interest and $30.00 for change of title and papers in renewing the loan. Today he owes $3,000.00.

Had he borrowed of this association he would have paid in 6 years on a loan of $3,000.00 in 72 easy monthly payments a total of $2,700.00 and he would today owe us $1,354.02. That is he would have paid this association $1,410.00 more than he has paid for interest only, and he would owe $1,646.98 less. How much of the $1,410.00 has he saved? Why not investigate the easy monthly payment plan?

BOLSHEVISM BIG MENACE TO RELIGION

It Substitutes "Thou Shalt Commit Murder" For Old Laws of God

ORANGE, Aug. 6.—Bolshevism's menace not only to the political world, but to the religious world as well was made clear to a large audience at the Seventh Day Adventist camp meeting here, by Elder W. T. Knox, of Washington, D. C., treasurer of the General or World Conference of the Adventists. Supporting his statements by competent authorities, the speaker showed that while the world has seen the disintegration of political structures, religious dissolution has not been so apparent to the physical vision, but has been going on rapidly, nevertheless. Every individual, he said, ought to be guarded lest he be contaminated with the spirit of doubt of the Bible which is sweeping the world. The great spiritual declension in the lives of the vast majority of mankind is a grave danger, he asserted, and added that the revolutionary changes of the past four or five years have placed the world upon a foundation of uncertainty.

The speaker emphasized the necessity for practical godliness, and the danger of religious formalism. In such a time as this, he said, when the world has lost its bearings, and is drifting it knows not whither, Christian men and women ought to have a real, living experience; they ought to know that God lives and still rules, and that the old Guide Book is still safe to follow.

Article by Noyes
Elder Knox called attention to a recent summary of Bolshevism made by Alfred Noyes in the Saturday Evening Post, in which he declared that "practical men, with their feet planted solidly on the earth, are looking into the future as into an immeasurable darkness; and they are not sure whether there is solid ground in front of them or whether the next few steps may bring them to the brink of a precipice."

Giving further the words of Mr. Noyes, the speaker said: "We hear Bolshevism described, for instance, as a terrible menace to our political systems. But we seldom hear it attacked on the really fundamental ground that it substitutes 'Thou shalt steal,' and 'Thou shalt commit murder' for the old laws of God. It is far more than a political problem. It is a religious problem affecting the whole conduct of human life."

"Unless Nature herself is abolished we must follow the universal laws of Nature. Fire will continue to burn the hand that defies it; and it is only by our observance of law that we live. The law is our only pathway through chaos; and as the old Scripture said, 'Thy word is a lantern unto my feet.' In the moral world this is equally true. The soul of humanity cannot live without religion; and our only hope is that mankind may now return to the first four words of the Bible: 'In the beginning God.'"

WELL! WELL! R. I. RED HEN LAYS RED EGG

ORANGE, Aug. 6.—O. G. Fuller of North Batavia street has the latest contribution to the subject of hens.

He has a Rhode Island Red hen that evidently became tired of the regular run of eggs and tried a new one. She laid a red egg.

The egg is evenly colored a dark red. Fuller has placed it on exhibition at the Chamber of Commerce.

MOTHERS TO BE

Should Read Mrs. Monahan's Letter Published by Her Permission.

Mitchell, Ind.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me so much during the time I was looking forward to the coming of my little one that I am recommending it to other expectant mothers. Before taking it, sometimes I suffered with neuralgia so badly that I thought I could not live, but after taking three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was entirely relieved of neuralgia. I had gained in strength and was able to go around and do all my housework. My baby when seven months old weighed 19 pounds and I feel better than I have for a long time. I never had any medicine do me so much good."—Mrs. PEARL MONAHAN, Mitchell, Ind.

Good health during maternity is a most important factor to both mother and child, and many letters have been received by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., telling of health restored during this trying period by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

ORANGE PERSONALS AND NEWS NOTES

ORANGE, Aug. 6.—Harriet A. Bennett died at her home, 484 South Olive, August 5th. She was born in Polk county, Missouri, April 28, 1839. She remained there until coming to Orange in 1900, where she has lived until her death. Mrs. Bennett leaves two sons, Charles of Orange, and F. M. Bennett of Anaheim. Funeral services were held at 2:30 this afternoon from the Methodist church, Rev. Geyer officiating. Interment was in the Santa Ana cemetery. The Woman's Relief Corps had charge of the services there.

A quiet wedding took place at the courthouse in Santa Ana Monday afternoon at two o'clock when Miss Adelheid Marie Schmetgen became the bride of Tyler F. Ball of St. Albans, West Virginia. Mrs. Ball is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Schmetgen of 1541 East Walnut street. The young couple left immediately for Escondido where they will make their home.

Miss Emily Spotts entertained five of her friends at her Laguna home over the week end. Swimming and hiking formed the main pleasures of the party. Those included were the Misses Della Hahn, Dorothy Perkins, Carrie Chandler, Elsie Parsons, and the hostess, Emily Spotts.

The Ku Ku Sim Campfire girls held another of their delightful steak bakes at the creek Monday evening. There was a short business meeting and the steak bake followed. Eight girls enjoyed this delightful evening.

FAREWELL DINNER FOR GIRL AT WINTERSBURG

WINTERSBURG AND SMELTZER, Aug. 6.—Miss Eunice Stockton was the honored guest at a pleasant affair Monday evening when a dinner was given by her cousin, Miss Frances Blaylock at her home east of Wintersburg as a farewell prior to Miss Stockton's departure for the North this week.

The guest list included, beside Miss Stockton, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Stockton; brother, Maurice Stockton; Loren Maddux, Guerdner Nichols, Leonard Cady, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Blaylock, Chas. Blaylock, Julianne Wallace and William Blaylock and the hostess, Miss Frances Blaylock.

Miss Stockton left San Pedro this morning at 11 o'clock on the "Humboldt" for San Francisco with a party of friends composed of Miss Martha McKittick of Tustin, Dee Chase of Santa Ana and Royal Jumper of Newport. All go north to enter Berkeley for the coming term, with the exception of Miss McKittick, who is just going for the trip.

Miss Stockton and Miss McKittick go first to Jersey Island, where they will visit with Mrs. Stockton's brother L. B. Hadley, and family, and from there Miss Stockton will go to Berkeley the 15th to register, preparatory for the opening of school the 20th. She contemplates taking the domestic science course but has not fully decided upon this as yet.

CULTIVATE OFTEN
Sweet potatoes should not suffer for want of cultivation. Keep the rows free from weeds and the soil in good tilth by shallow cultivation. Cultivation may be continued until the vines become too thick to cultivate any longer. At the last cultivation get all soil worked well up onto the ridges.

WANT DRAINAGE BONDS
REDDING, Aug. 6.—The towns of Anderson and Cottonwood have asked directors of the Anderson and Cottonwood irrigation district to include $20,000 for a drainage district in the coming bond election.

Wintersburg and Smeltzer

WINTERSBURG AND SMELTZER

Aug. 6.—Mrs. George B. Crane arrived home Thursday after a six-weeks' absence in Iowa, to which place she was called on account of the critical condition of her father, who is paralyzed. He is gradually growing worse and Mrs. Crane could observe quite a change in him during the time of her stay. Mrs. Crane saw many old friends while there and beside visiting in Clearfield her father's home, she also was at Bedford and Creston. It is four years since she was last there and in that time many changes have been made. The weather was extremely hot all during the six-weeks of her stay and she is glad to get back to California.

Miss Marie DeLong of Tustin, who formerly resided here, was a guest over Monday and Monday night of Mrs. John Cady.

W. G. Alford returned Saturday from Riverside where he spent the greater part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Crane, daughters Mary and Floete, son, S. J., and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Graham, drove to Pomona Sunday and spent the day with a friend, Mr. Hamilton, who is leaving this week for the east. He goes directly to Mrs. Crane's home town, where he is a neighbor of her father.

All services will be held as usual next Sunday at the Wintersburg Methodist church. The pastor, Rev. O. M. Ross, will preach both morning and evening.

Mrs. J. T. Stockton, son, Maurice, daughters, Miss Eunice and Mrs. Haze Lamb and the latter's two little daughters, Lois and Alice, of Talbert motored Monday to Glendora and were guests for the day of their daughter and sister, Mrs. E. R. Porter and family.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Crane and family visited in Santa Ana Monday evening with Mr. Crane's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Orr of Parsons, Kan., and his brother, V. D. Crane of Antelope Valley. They are visiting with relatives there and contemplate leaving at once for their home.

Miss Esther Ross, who is a librarian at the state library at Sacramento, is spending a two-weeks' vacation at the parsonage. Miss Ross made the trip from the north by boat, landing at San Pedro and accompanied her father, Rev. Ross, and sister, Miss Mabel Ross, down from Los Angeles Saturday evening. Miss Bess Lloyd, a niece of Rev. Ross, also accompanied the party here from the city and was a week-end guest, returning to Los Angeles with Rev. and Miss Mabel Ross Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Hearst and their five children of Fresno are guests at the W. T. Vanduff home, having arrived from the north last Saturday. They will be in this vicinity several weeks. The family formerly lived at the Huntington Beach ranch.

Howard Frye of Santa Ana was a Saturday and Sunday guest of Loren Maddux.

Miss Nellie Fisk arrived Monday from Los Angeles and is a guest for the week of Miss Myrtle Culver.

Miss Bessie Tenick returned Friday to her home in Santa Ana after a week's visit with her aunt, Mrs. Don McMillan.

J. H. Buck of Santa Paula arrived Sunday at the home of his sister, Mrs. J. H. Culver. He will spend a week or more visiting relatives in this locality.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Williamson and sons of Tulare left Thursday for Ventura where they will stop over for a time on their return trip. The Williams sons spent about two weeks as guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Maddux and family and friends in Garden Grove and Huntington Beach.

Mr. Deardorf of Riverside came Sunday to the E. M. Fox home, bringing with him his daughter, Carla, who will remain here as is her usual custom, to attend school. She has spent the past two months of her vacation with her father.

E. A. Hoff finds his injured foot, which was crushed in a cultivator while at work, mending quite slowly. It is somewhat improved, however, and he is managing to get about on crutches.

Reuben Clemens' brother-in-law, John McMillan, returned Friday from a trip to Turlock well pleased with the appearance of that particular section. While at Turlock they were the guests one night of Finis Commons, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. John Murdy of Smeltzer.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Lewis reached home Friday from Big Bear Valley, where they spent almost two weeks camping with a party of friends and enjoying all the pleasures of the mountain resort.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Elmer L. Worthy spent Thursday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Worthy. The young couple had just returned Wednesday evening from an extended wedding tour to Yosemite, where they enjoyed a most delightful time. At Palo Alto they stopped for a visit with Lieutenant Worthy's brother, Arthur Worthy, and family. They are spending a week or two in Santa Ana at the home of Mrs. Worthy's parents, Professor and Mrs. Roberts, during their absence.

Mrs. Laura Lewis of Los Angeles was entertained from Thursday until Saturday of the past week at the home of her daughter, Mrs. D. W. C. Dimmock.

Mrs. Dave Sharatt, who has been very ill, is convalescing nicely and was able to walk the short distance to Mrs. Dwyer's Sunday morning for the first time.

Mrs. M. J. Taylor and two children, Tom and Lucille, of Hemet, arrived Friday at the home of her sister, Mrs. D. W. C. Dimmock. They are here for a two-weeks' visit, at the end of which time Mr. Taylor will come to accompany them home. On Monday the visitors went to the home of Mrs. Taylor's sister-in-law, Mrs. E. Ray Moore, with whom they will spend a few days, going from there to Los Angeles and return here later. Mrs. Taylor and the children came here from Santa Ana, where they have been visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Alford enjoyed an afternoon's outing at Balboa Sunday.

Donald Larter, who with Fred Mallette, Charles Maddux, George McCrindle of this place and others from adjoining communities, are on a hunting trip in Ventura, had the good luck to kill a deer on the first day out in camp, according to word received here.

Stirling Ross, son of Rev. and Mrs. C. M. Ross, who is serving a several year term of enlistment in the U. S. navy, has been transferred on to a transport, he writes, which is making successive trips to and from France and Holland to New York, bringing home troops. He is finding this new service very entertaining and decidedly to his liking.

With the resuming of the usual routine of services at the Wintersburg Methodist church, the automobile con-

GARDEN GROVE NEWS

GARDEN GROVE, Aug. 6.—Mrs. Della Anderson has received a letter from her son Arthur, from Omsk, Siberia. He has been stationed the past nine months at Valdivostok, but has now been sent with a Red Cross train on a trip inland which will take him across the Ural mountains into Russia in Europe. He expects to be gone from two to four months without mail service. He says he has seen some of the finest farming land he has ever seen anywhere and a few fine fields of wheat and cannot understand why the people should be starving but, they are. He says when sugar is obtainable at all it is $1.00 per lb. and cigarettes $1.00 per package. He spends his surplus dollars for sugar. He does not know when he will be home.

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Reyburn, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Woodworth and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon King attended the meeting of the War Recognition executive committee at Orange county park Friday evening. The section quotas were assigned. Garden Grove's quota being $610. Chairman Reyburn has been busy arranging committees. The same committees and methods will be used for the drive which begins Monday as in the former drives.

A delightful chicken luncheon was enjoyed at Bixby Park, Long Beach, Sunday, by Mr. and Mrs. William Morrell and son Mark, Mrs. Vienna Donelson and guests, Miss Cord Lee and L. Parnley, Mrs. Grace Dyer and Mrs. Hanks, of Los Angeles, and C. Parnley and daughter Miss Nellie of Long Beach. The occasion was to celebrate the birthdays of Mrs. Morrell and son Mark, Mrs. Donelson and Mrs. Dyer, all of which were within a few days of each other. Mrs. Morrell, Mrs. Dyer and Miss Lee were school girls at Sedan, Kansas.

The regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be held in the bank Monday, Aug. 11th.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Turner, of Portland, Oregon, are visiting the latter's cousin, Mrs. T. C. Natland. They made the trip from Portland by auto. Mr. and Mrs. J. U. Kerner and Mrs. H. E. Dungan spent Friday in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Della Anderson visited Mrs. F. W. Knight in Pomona Sunday. They each have a son in the service in Siberia.
